IN NIXON VISIT . . . Soviets See No Hurdle

©The New York Times

Moscow — Soviet officials have told Western diplomats that President Nixon's visit to Rumania next month offers no obstacles to arms control talks or to the general improvement of Soviet-American relations.

It was also learned that Washington had informed the Kremlin about Nixon's plans in advance of last Saturday's public announcement.

The Soviet leaders were told that Nixon would visit Bucharest for only one day at Rumanian invitation and that the trip should not be viewed as an anti-Soviet maneuver.

'Nothing Unusual'

The Russians, in conversations with Western diplomats, have said they knew of the plans and that there was nothing unusual about Rumanian President Nicolae Ceausescu talking with Nixon.

The Soviet press, which has warned other Communist countries to be wary of Washington's "bridge-building" activities, has not commented so far on the Nixon trip.

In fact, the prevailing atmosphere in Soviet-American relations has been steadily improving, diplomats said.

This is probably due to the Soviet desire to insure that the long-delayed talks on reduction and limitation of strategic missiles is not further postponed.

President Nixon has said, and Secretary of State William P. Rogers reaffirmed Tuesday, that he hoped the talks could begin in the first weeks of August. A sharp Soviet attack on Nixon's trip to Bucharest obviously would not help getting the talks started.

The arrival Tuesday of Col. Frank Borman, the astronaut, and his warm greeting by Soviet cosmonauts was only the latest and probably the most symbolic gesture in this diplomatic effort to create the right atmosphere.

TOUR GUIDE JULIE EXPLAINS LINCOLN BEDROOM

Features of the Lincoln Bedroom of the White House are explained to a group of tourists Wednesday by Julie Nixon Eisenhower. The President's daughter is on the staff of Executive Mansion tour guides for the summer. Julie, who turns 21 Saturday, explained that Abraham Lincoln never slept in the Lincoln Bedroom. She said that "as the story goes," Winston Churchill, late British prime minister, was seen in the middle of the night, bags in hand, moving over to the Queen's Bedroom because he decided President Lincoln's bedroom was "not for him."

United Nations Told Of Dangers

. . . U THANT MAKES APPEAL

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — A group of 14 international experts warned Wednesday that use of biological and chemical weapons in any future war would open the door to horrors beyond control of mankind.

The grim evaluation was in a report prepared at the request of Secretary-General U Thant in compliance with a General Assembly resolution.

The experts summed up their conclusions in these words:

"Were these weapons ever to be used on a large scale in war, no one could predict how enduring the effects would be, and how they would affect the structure of society and the environment in which we live.

"This overriding danger would apply as much to the country which initiated the use of these weapons as to the one which had been attacked, regardless of what protective measures it might have taken in parallel with its development of an offensive capability . . . civilians would be even more vulnerable than the military."

Steps Proposed

Thant's immediate reaction was to urge the 126 U.N. member countries to take threefold action:

—Call upon all countries to reach agreement to halt development, production and stockpiling of all chemical and biological agents for purpose of war, and to eliminate them from the arsenal of weapons.

—Renew the appeal to all countries to accede to the 1925 Geneva convention against use of poison gases and bacteriological methods of warfare.

—Make clear that the prohibition in the Geneva protocol applies to use in war of all chemical or biological agents, including tear gas and other harassing agents.

The United States has signed but not ratified the Geneva convention, but has pledged frequently to abide by it. The Soviet Union is among the countries that have ratified it.

Among the additional findings of the experts:

The potential for developing an armory of chemical and biological weapons has grown considerably in recent years, not only in terms of the number of agents, but also in their toxicity and the diversity of their effects.

At one extreme, chemical agents exist and are being developed for use in the control of civil disorders, while others have been developed to increase the production of agriculture.

Could Be Perilous

"But even though these substances may be less toxic than most other chemical agents," the report added, "their ill-considered civil use, or use for military purposes, could turn out to be highly dangerous."

The experts declared that prospects for disarmament and peace would brighten significantly if chemical and biological weapons were removed from arsenals.

The expressed hope that their report "will contribute to public awareness of the profoundly dangerous results if these weapons were ever used, and that an aroused public will demand and receive assurances that governments are working for the earliest effective elimination of chemical and biological weapons."

Prison Inmates Continue Hunger Strike

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska State Penitentiary inmates Wednesday passed through the mess hall lines and sat at their tables but did not eat as a hunger strike continued through its second day.

Prior to the Wednesday noon meal, inmates had boycotted the mess hall.

The strike began with the Tuesday noon meal when less than 100 of the 500 inmates showed up for meals. Fewer inmates showed up for the Tuesday evening meal and only 69 ate Wednesday breakfast.

Warden Maurice Sigler asserted the boycott is the work of a "few muscle men" who are making other inmates participate.

Inmate Roughed Up

The warden said one inmate was roughed up Tuesday evening by other inmates while he was on his way to eat.

Sigler said he does not plan to make any changes in the operation of the penitentiary.

"No one has complained to me yet about conditions," he said.

The warden said two handwritten notes found in a cell block called for an increase in wages, better food and an inmate council.

The notes said these three items were the cause of the strike.

'Nothing Valid'

Sigler said there was "nothing valid" about the complaints listed in the two notes, which were found by a guard.

Two minor fires were started around 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in the penitentiary laundry. The laundry was quickly closed for the remainder of the day.

Sigler said he believes a possible reason for the strike was a decision not to allow Edward Strong of Omaha to attend the funeral Monday of his 14-year-old sister Vivian.

Killed Last Week

The sister was killed last week on Omaha's North Side in an incident which touched off racial disturbances.

The warden said he had decided to permit Strong to attend the funeral until Omaha police officials advised him against it.

Strong is serving a 10-year sentence for burglary.

Demands Listed

One of the anonymous notes made the following demands:

—An inmate council elected by popular vote.

—A staff sponsor for the council who would be selected by inmates.

—Regular meetings of inmate councils to discuss better food and food preparation, a qualified food steward and other gripes.

Other Note

The other note called for:

—Menus to be made out by a state dietitian and followed to the letter (no changes or substitutes).

—A qualified food steward and not a guard to prepare meals.

—A wage increase from 30 cents to 40 cents because taxes affect inmates as well as others.

The second note said that "the demands are not out of the ordinary but are a necessity with these ever changing times."

Meet With 14

Sigler said during a news conference Wednesday morning that he met with 14 inmates and told them that the demands listed in the notes were ridiculous.

The warden, commenting on the demand for a qualified food steward, said the present steward is "well qualified."

The steward, Robert Patterson, was an Air Force cook for 11 years and had also prepared meals for the Lincoln Job Corps and a country club.

Dry-Run Countdown Goes Well For Apollo

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — A launch crew repaired a leaky fuel valve Wednesday and successfully completed a countdown rehearsal to keep America's man on the moon adventure moving on schedule toward a July 16 liftoff.

Simulating launch day with the 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket and Apolla 11 moonship fully fueled on its pad, project officials counted down to a make-believe blastoff at 1:51 a.m.—more than three hours later than planned because of the valve problem.

Despite the difficulty, the 5½-day test was the smoothest countdown rehearsal ever conducted with a Saturn 5-Apollo rocket.

If Wednesday had been the actual launch day, Apollo 11 would have blasted off with more than one hour to spare before the moon would have moved out of range as a target from Cape Kennedy.

Mishap Injures At Least One

Lincoln police were investigating an automobile accident at 27th and Cornhusker Hwy. early Thursday morning.

First reports from the scene indicated at least one person was injured in the mishap. Police reports indicated the person may have suffered a broken back.

Nebraska's General Fund Cash Balance $34 Million

Nebraska's general fund cash balance was $34,370,819 for the 1967-69 fiscal biennium ended Monday, the Department of Administrative Services reported Wednesday.

The balance was $12,115,591 higher than the $22,255,228 that the Tiemann administration estimated last December would be in the general fund on June 30.

At that time, Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann unsuccessfully pleaded with the Legislature not to let the state sales tax drop from 2½% to 2% on Jan. 1.

$2.4 Million Held

State Accountant Bob Yeager said the $34.3 balance includes $2.4 million in escrowed school aid funds that are being held pending outcome of a lawsuit by the Omaha School District.

These escrowed funds, he said, leave a net general fund balance of $31.9 million.

However, Yeager also noted another $9.7 million is tied up in the sales-and-income tax refund fund, and is not included in the general fund balance.

In view of the fact that most of the estimated $13 million in 1968 sales and income tax refunds already have been paid out, State Tax Commissioner Murrell McNeil conceded the $9.7 million reserved for payment of 1969 refunds is too great.

He noted that the monthly transfer of $1.5 million into the refund account has been suspended temporarily, at least.

Higher than expected income tax receipts and lower than estimated spending caused the wide difference between Tiemann's estimate of the June 30 balance and the actual balance reported by the department.

Yeager also reported the June 30 balances in the state building fund at $21,112,741 and the state office building fund at $2,870,918.

Approximately $16.7 million of the building fund balance would be reappropriated by 1969-71 construction appropriations bill (LB1425), thus lapsing approximately $4.4 million back into the general fund, further swelling the reported $34.3 general fund balance carryover for the new biennium.

Crippled Children's Day Camp Offers New Fun, Old Friends

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Rolling over with a cage ball as big as he was and struggling to his feet time after time was thoroughly entertaining for eight-year-old Johnny.

Another Johnny just liked to be pushed around in his wheelchair — the faster the better.

Dean Yien, serving as a camp counselor for his fifth year, amused several boys and girls with his antics and assistance.

Harlan Chamberlain used to attend the week-long summer event as a camper. Now he attends as a counselor.

These campers and youth counselors were among a crew of 80 attending the 15th annual Lancaster County Easter Seal Society crippled children's summer day camp.

Wednesday afternoon the boys and girls played pitching games, croquet, ball games and archery when they weren't working on crafts, listening to records or just running around at Camp Minis Kuya.

The children swim every morning at Nebraska Wesleyan University pool.

Renewing friendships with other campers and counselors is as thrilling to most of the children as the favorite activity, horseback riding according to one of the camp directors, NWU football coach Harold Chaffee.

"It's like old home week when the kids first get together again," Chaffee reported. All but two of the 41 campers and many of the 26 youth counselors recruited by the Red Cross have attended the summer camp in previous years.

Dr. Irvin Peterson, NWU basketball coach, is directing the summer camp activities for the 15th year.

Six NWU students enrolled in a class on the administration of crippled children's camps. Three student nurses and two bus drivers from the NWU athletic staff also serve as counselors so that each camper has a constant companion.

In addition to the daily swimming and one horseback riding session, the campers have taken a trip to Peterson's farm near Wahoo for a cookout and plan a picnic and visit to the Omaha zoo Thursday.

Rites Set For Children Who Drowned In Pond

Beaver City (AP) — Services were pending Wednesday for two children who drowned in a pond at their farm 12 miles southeast of Beaver City.

Furnas County Attorney Eric Eisenhart said the bodies of Donna Stalter, 7, and Gary Stalter, 9, were recovered by the Oxford Rescue Unit after they drowned Tuesday.

The boy and girl, two of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stalter, apparently had been wading in the pond and stepped in a hole. They were alone at home with another five-year-old child, who ran to the farm home and notified the rest of the family by two-way radio.

The father, mother and other children were working at the time at another farm operated by the family.

Drop-Off In Fighting Could Speed Pullout

World News

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Wednesday the drop-off in Vietnam fighting and in enemy infiltration, if it continues, could speed up the withdrawal of U.S. troops.

But he took a wait-and-see stance on what far-reaching significance — if any — the lower level of fighting might have on the effort toward ending the war.

An American source in South Vietnam told newsmen that the enemy attacks "are almost down to nothing" and military officials said they are at one of the lowest levels of the year. But the officials said infiltration from North Vietnam is keeping enemy forces up to strength.

Hopes Reds Responding

Rogers voiced hope that the enemy is responding to the June 8 Nixon-Thieu Midway Island peace bid and announcement of a 25,000-man U.S. troop pullout. But he also said the enemy may just be lying low now because of heavy combat losses — or may be "regrouping for another attack."

"Obviously," Rogers added, "if the level of hostilities decreases and if it is significant, other than just a part of their short-term strategy, that would affect our decision on the question of troop replacements."

He noted that one of the yardsticks President Nixon uses in deciding on the rate of American force withdrawals "is the level of hostilities by the enemy."

And Rogers pledged that the United States "will certainly be willing to take some risks to end the war" if Vietnam developments present the opportunity.

Other Matters

The secretary of state also ranged over Nixon's forthcoming visit to Romania and other current foreign affairs matters. He said:

—The United States and Cambodia have agreed to resume immediately diplomatic relations broken four years ago and this is "a positive step looking toward peace in Southeast Asia." A neighbor of South Vietnam, Cambodia severed ties with Washington in 1965 amid complaints over U.S. and South Vietnamese violations of her borders.

—Nixon's stop a month hence in Romania, the East European Communist country notably at odds with Moscow on foreign policy, is not calculated to antagonize the Kremlin.

—The Nixon administration is not "dragging its feet" on starting strategic arms limitations talks with the Soviets. The administration has a responsibility to proceed carefully with the important proposed nuclear disarmament talks which "go to the heart of the security of the American people and that of our allies." Meanwhile, the Kremlin has not yet replied to a U.S. statement of readiness to begin the talks around July 31.

—The United States has asked the Soviet Union what party chief Leonid Brezhnev had in mind with his vague public suggestion a month ago for an Asian collective security arrangement. So far the Soviets have given no specific details.

—The Soviet response to U.S. proposals for a Middle-East settlement contains "some advances" but "there are, without any doubt, very substantial remaining difficulties." Washington will continue discussions with Moscow and with other powers in the effort for a lasting Middle East solution.

'DESERT BILL' DIES

Ben Het Defenders Claim Total Victory

Ben Het, Vietnam (AP) — The first supply convoy to get through in eight days reached Ben Het Wednesday, and an allied commander whose troops helped break the siege claimed that "the enemy is defeated completely."

Other officers warned, however, that the Communist command could launch a new attack at any time.

Rumbling over a road littered with sheii casings, empty ammunition tins, burned out tanks and empty blood plasma containers, the convoy entered the battered Special Forces camp six miles from the Cambodian frontier.

But the defenders of Ben Het, who had been under attack for two months, were too busy repairing shell-battered bunkers to pay much attention.

Highway Secured

As the convoy arrived, officers said the highway, cleared Tuesday night by government armor, was finally secure.

A U.S. officer said 3,298 enemy shells hit the camp between May 4 when the siege began and June 30. None has been fired since.

The camp is defended by 700 South Vietnamese and Montagnard mountain tribesmen irregulars, their 12-man team of U.S. Special Forces advisers and about 100 U.S. artillerymen.

It is estimated that at one time they were up against at least 3,000 North Vietnamese infantrymen plus an artillery regiment.

The South Vietnamese 23rd Infantry Division launched a series of offensives in early May to ease the enemy pressure agaisnt Ben Het. They continued through June with heavy casualties on both sides.

Burger Named Chief Justice At Office's Peak Of Power

©The New York Times

Washington — In assuming the office of chief justice, Warren E. Burger has taken over a post that may have entered a new period of heightened power and prestige.

For most of its 180-year history, the chief justiceship has been a position of great dignity and little impact outside the legal world. It has produced more nonentities than giants.

Yet Earl Warren, who has stepped down as chief justice, is likely to be remembered as one of the saints perhaps second only to John Marshall who has been known as "the great chief justice" for so long that he may never have any peers.

The greatness of Warren, Marshall and a third particularly strong chief justice, Roger B. Taney, appeared to have come about because they were extraordinary men in power at extraordinary times. In each case, they presided over the supreme court when it was extending its power, and the importance of those events reflected well on their own careers.

Yet the average American would probably be hard put to recall the names of other chief justices, and men like Oliver Ellsworth, Salmon P. Chase, Morrison R. Waite and Melville W. Fuller have been relegated to the footnotes of most history books. John Jay, William Howard Taft and Charles Evans Hughes are remembered more for other public activities rather than their tenures as chief justice.

In light of this tradition, Burger's prospects for historic renown would seem dim, as most legal observers feel that the Supreme Court is in for a period of retrenchment and consolidation.

But many legal experts also believe that the Supreme Court and the federal judiciary have assumed too commanding a role in the government during the Warren era to ever slip back into the passivity of earlier periods. They feel that, just as the presidency has become so powerful that the complaisance of a Calvin Coolidge or a Warren G. Harding is now unthinkable, so the chief justice will tend naturally to be prominent in national affairs in the years ahead.

Power Fluctuates

In succeeding Warren as the United States' chief judicial officer, Burger assumes an office that has tended to swell or shrink to match the stature of the men who have occupied it.

As Warren demonstrated, the chief justice's seat can be a position of vast influence when occupied at a time ripe for change by a man of vision and aggressiveness. When men of less force have held the post, its functions have been largely ceremonial.

Those few who have held the office and have not been impressed by it have tended to be marked by history as having failed to reach its potentialities.

For example, Chief Justice Chase, whose court was sometimes called the "Lincoln Court," thought the powers of the chief justice were "vastly misconceived."

Challenge Halted In North Carolina

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina House voted Tuesday to rescind a resolution by the 1965 legislature for the convening of a national constitutional convention to change the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling.

The house was told that 32 other states have called for a convention. Resolutions are needed from 34 states for one to be convened.

McGovern Relates Reds' Conditions

Washington (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., disclosed Wednesday that he met secretly for nine hours May 23 with the chief Viet Cong and North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris.

He said he was told there would be no serious peace negotiations until the systematic withdrawal of all American troops had begun.

U.S. withdrawal and an end of U.S. support for the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu were the Communists' two key demands, McGovern told the Senate.

McGovern, one of the Senate's first and most vocal doves, said he arranged the meeting through a friend to find out for himself what the Communist position was in the peace talks.

He said Henry Cabot Lodge, the chief U.S. negotiator, gave his blessings to the secret mission and briefed McGovern on the pitfalls of talking with the Communists.

McGovern was the only American present at the two meetings.

The first was with Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, the chief Viet Cong negotiator, and Tran Bui Kiem, who has since left the talks to assume the role of foreign minister of the new "Provisional Revolutionary Government" which the Viet Cong have promoted as a coalition government.

The second meeting was with Xuan Thuy, chief of the Hanoi delegation.

Russia To Try To Get Moon Soil

Moscow (AP) — Communist sources said Wednesday the Soviet Union plans to launch an unmanned moon probe July 10 that will attempt to scoop up a sample of moon soil and return it to earth.

The experiment, if successful, would precede by six days the American Apollo shot designed to land two men on the moon.

The report came as Col. Frank Borman, the first astronaut to visit the Soviet Union, arrived in Moscow and was met by three Soviet cosmonauts — German Titov, Konstantin Feoktistov and Georgi Beregevoi.

Borman and his family will spend nine days in the Soviet Union, visiting a space communications center in the Crimea and Vzyozdni Gorodok-Star City, where the cosmonauts live.

The sources, who have contacts inside the Soviet space program said the July 10 launch would be the third attempt to carry out the complex shot.

The first blew up on the launch pad at Baikonur Cosmodrome in early April and the second exploded in flight June 14 when its second stage ignited, they said. Neither was announced by Soviet authorities. The reports were unofficial and confirmation could not be obtained.

The sources said the experiment would be part of the Luna series which has carried out a number of studies on the moon's surface and surrounding conditions.

"The space people are very disturbed over the success of the American Apollo program," one source said. "Losing the moon race will be a terrible blow to them."

The sources had few details on the mechanics of the moon shot but they said a detachable lunar module would make the descent to the surface, scoop up the soil, then blast off and link up with the main craft for the return trip. All maneuvers would be controlled by radio signals from ground stations.

Later Wednesday the 41-year-old spaceman and his family traveled to Leningrad where he was besieged for autographs by squealing schoolgirls.

The girls mobbed him after he left the cruiser Aurora, preserved as a floating museum on the Neva River because it fired the first shot of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution.

Borman jokingly told the Aurora captain, "I promise not to go to sea — I get seasick."

Bonny Won't Work For Food

Mountain View, Calif. (AP) — An orbiting monkey refused to perform tasks for his food but waited until it was given on a "nonworking basis," data from a National Aeronautical and Space Agency satellite indicated Wednesday.

Bonny, a 14-pound primate, remained in excellent condition during the fourth day of a planned 30-day flight to test the effect of prolonged travel, officials of NASA's Ames Research Center reported.

Sensors on the monkey's body showed that he ate 43 food pellets but did not perform either of two tasks designed to bring him food rewards.

Seward Plant's Cranes In Hands Of 5 Females

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Seward — Katherine Suhr is one of the few women in town who can hustle up a ton or so of lumber with ease and without raising a male eyebrow.

Of course, she and four other women have considerable mechanical help. They operate overhead cranes for Hughes Bros. Inc., lumber products industrialists.

Among the five of them — Mrs. Suhr; her sister, Helen Koranda; Helen Schultz; Antoinette Berniklau; and Arline Tonniges — they have a century and a quarter of service to Hughes.

World War II provided the original need. With men demanded by the military, changes were being made at Hughes as everywhere else, and Mr. Suhr, now deceased, was moved from his crane operating job to another department.

Mrs. Suhr was hired to fill in, in 1943, worked out to everyone's satisfaction, and by the end of the following year, four more women had been hired to staff the crane "boxes." All have been on the job since.

Of the 250 workers in the Hughes plant, 18 are women, according to personnel manager George Brust. A substitute crane operator and a fork lift operator are included.

Brust and Plant Superintendent Lester Pieper said women are well suited for the crane operating job for two main reasons: they generally are "quicker" on manual dexterity than men, and they can tolerate the monotonous routine over long periods of time much better than men.

"They do the job without trying to outguess what's going on down below," Pieper said.

About 25 feet below, each operator has a "rackman" who gives her hand signals telling what he wants done. Voice communication is impossible because of the constant din of saws and drills.

In her "crane box" running along high voltage wires, the operator works three hand dials at the rackman's instruction, lifting, shifting forward or backward or from side to side. Her "work area" is tiny, so there's no "pacing" in a Hughes crane operator's day.

Grandmother of 10

But to Mrs. Suhr, who raised three children — all of whom have married and are raising 10 grandchildren — while she's been an operator, the job seldom gets boring.

When it's not busy, she sits back and writes letters or reads a magazine, passing the time high in her air chair. Like becoming accustomed to the noise, it's all just a matter of "getting used to" the job, she said.

"There's only one way to run those cranes," company Secretary-Treasurer T. R. Hughes said, "the right way . . . and that's the way the women do it."

The three men were thrown from the vehicle after it left the road and rolled three times.

Iowa Youth Found Dead

Chadron (AP) — A 16-year-old Des Moines, Iowa, youth was found dead Wednesday in a machine shop at the Pine Ridge Civilian Conservation Center, a Job Corps center, near here.

Dawes County Attorney Bevin Bump said Ronald P. Cook's body was found face down with his head in a plastic paint bucket.

Dr. W. O. Brown, Scottsbluff pathologist who performed an autopsy, said death apparently was caused by inhalation of gasoline fumes.

Bump said young Cook, who had missed Tuesday night's bedcheck, apparently broke into the machine shop through a window.

The county attorney said there was no evidence of foul play.

Young Cook had been at the center since last March.

Family Of Five Escape As Auto, Engine Collide

'Skeeter' Wenzl On Mercy Trip To Treat Burns

Nebraska City (UPI) — A chartered plane has taken 12-year-old Norbert "Skeeter" Wenzl on a mercy flight to a Shrine hospital in Galveston, Tex., for treatment of burns.

The boy suffered second and third degree burns on his hands, arms and legs in an accident near his home on June 20.

Apparently the boy was trying some kind of experiment when the accident occurred. He made an indention in the earth with the heel of his shoe, put small rocks in the area, soaked the materials and opening with gasoline and then struck a match.

He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital here. Later the boy's father, Walt, asked the Shrine to help.

All expenses of the flight and hospitalization are being paid for with Shrine funds. His parents accompanied "Skeeter" to Galveston.

State Group's Goal Restoring Decency

North Platte (AP) — A statewide group has been formed to battle immorality with initial attention focused on sex education in the schools.

Dr. Max M. Raines, a North Platte surgeon for the past 15 years, heads the organization known as MOTOREDE. The group takes its name from the nationwide "Movement to Restore Decency."

Dr. Raines said the Nebraska group is thought to be the first statewide organization of its type in the nation although the national organization has units in several communities and areas.

The immediate goal, he said, will be to stop SIECUS — The Sex Information and Education Council of the United States. He said members of his group feel the SIECUS "does not want to provide sex education; instead it merely wants to break down traditional sexual restraints and establish a new sexual morality."

Dr. Raines said the newly created group counts more than 100 members and is receiving widespread support for its Nebraska goal to provide an educational program designed to "restore and preserve the traditional heritage of American morality, which is now sick."

The new sexual morality advocated by SIECUS, Dr. Raines said, has "been tried in Sweden and look what has happened there. Illegitimacy is up, there has been an increase in venereal disease and other harmful effects."

He said SIECUS is now leading a nationwide effort to have sex education in all elementary and secondary schools.

The MOTOREDE chairman contended the drive for sex education in the schools is not a grass roots movement, but rather "is led by a few people seeking to impose it on our total educational system."

'Parents' Responsibility'

Dr. Raines maintains parents have the right and responsibility to provide sex education to their children and that right and duty should not be usurped by the schools.

Currently the president of the Nebraska Cancer Society, Dr. Raines said the national movement has received "impetus and encouragement" from the John Birch Society.

"However, most of the people involved have nothing to do with the John Birch Society. We receive our material from all sources," said Dr. Raines.

The material which Dr. Raines said is paid for by donations by members and private individuals, includes literature, film strips, recordings and personal speeches.

He said his group hopes to make appearances throughout the state to service clubs and other interested organizations.

Mrs. Max Vanarsdall, Hershey farmwife, is executive secretary and coordinates the materials and speakers.

"We're not a bunch of kooks," said Dr. Raines. "This is a long-range and serious thing. We have to restore the traditional morality of this country, which is its backbone."

Board Considers Special Census In Sarpy County

Papillion (AP) — Dale Payne, administrative assistant to the Sarpy County Board, said the board is considering a special census in Sarpy County.

The regular 10-year national census is to begin next year.

Payne said Sarpy County could receive an additional $250,000 to $300,000 in gas tax refunds in 1970-71 as a result of the special count.

The county's population in 1960 was listed at 31,281. Current estimates place Sarpy population from 60,000 to 70,000.

The federal census is expected to start next April with results to be tabulated late in the year.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It would not be surprising if some people were a little confused over words spoken by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in his first official appearance since taking office. Speaking before the 10th Circuit Judicial Conference, Burger denied a magazine story which said he was concerned that recent court decisions had severely hampered criminal prosecutors.

"It could not have been more wrong," he said. "In fact, the defense is not strong enough." Referring to past work of his with the American Bar Association, Burger said that "our objective was to make plans so that we will get better lawyers on the defense side. With that competition, there will also be better prosecutors."

Those words may cause some head-scratching among the Burger enthusiasts who had him painted as a hard-liner on law and order.

Burger, however, is simply saying that justice consists of quality in three areas — the defense, prosecution and the judiciary. He expects to spend a lot of time working on improvements in the latter.

There is still no way to pigeon-hole Burger but he obviously does not intend to throw in jail everyone against whom a charge is filed or a suspicion held.

Burger does not intend to become a "hanging judge" and for this there should be gratitude. It is a temptation to many people to look at the disorder in the nation and attribute it all to a decline in law-enforcement.

In much the same manner, many people attribute the demonstrations of students and others to the simple fact that these people want publicity. We can't buy either theory.

Too much of the conflict and too many of the demonstrations represent wasted life for them to be attributed to some simple thing as publicity or inadequate law-enforcement.

Thinking in such simple terms diverts people from the possible real causes of discontent and unless we get at these causes, we are going to continue to have difficulty. This is why people who believe only in law and order are hurting themselves and the nation.

You have to have a lot more than law and order to curb crime, to eliminate poverty, to raise the level of effectiveness of education and to bring about racial equality. You have to have in all the people an understanding of what is needed and a willingness to provide it.

You have to have a moral commitment on the part of all people to make the world a good place in which to live for all citizens, not just those lucky enough to make a success of it.

A good example is the matter of rehabilitation. With nothing but imprisonment, a man leaves incarceration only to return the life of crime which placed him there in the first place. If he is to avoid this, there must be rehabilitation programs which seek to make him a productive member of society.

It is the same with impoverished people. It is not enough to make them toe the mark in matters of law and order. A great many of them will defy the law, regardless of its stringency, if no other effort is being made to help them escape the destiny that has fallen to them.

As for organized crime, Burger is right in his emphasis on quality. It is improved law-enforcement and better judicial processes that will deal most effectively with organized crime, not just tougher policies.

The strict law-and-order advocate is like a man trying to get rid of his weeds by cutting off their tops. A few days later, the roots have sprouted a new plant above the ground.

College Aid Ban Nixed

Good news from Washington on two fronts this week. The House Education and Labor Committee killed a bill that would have barred federal aid to colleges and universities lacking approved plans for combating campus disorders.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., principal sponsor of the bill, warned the committee majority that its action would open the way for "repressive and punitive" measures from the House floor. The committee opponents of the bill, however, feared that even a watered-down version of the bill, once on the floor, would be amended into a long-term, punitive measure by congressmen favoring a severe crackdown on disorders. Now, only riders to appropriation bills can be added to achieve that purpose and they are in effect for only one year.

The defeated bill was opposed by campus administrators, who now hopefully will move to meet student disruptions without federal legislative intervention, and by Nixon administration officials, who realize that barring federal aid to schools hit by disorders would only serve the purpose of the rebellious while hurting the institution and the majority of students who are interested in an education.

The administration also this week indicated that it will not oppose a compromise by which the 1965 Voting Rights Act would be extended. Under the act, some 800,000 Deep South Negroes have been registered to vote.

Under the compromise, the House of Representatives would first act on extending the 1965 law, then consider the administration bill which would outlaw literacy tests for voting throughout the nation.

The President is apparently unwilling to risk a revolt by House Republican civil rights supporters who appreciate that the 1965 law offers a remedy where the need is the greatest, while the new law as first proposed by the administration would make it easier for states to change voting requirements and thus deny Negroes the right to vote.

ABM Gaining No Ground

In congressional debate over the administration's proposed anti-ballistic missile system (ABM), President Nixon seems to be gaining very little ground. The odds are about even on passage of the necessary legislation to establish this limited defense system.

A telling blow was delivered the system in expert testimony released by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy. The testimony, by three prominent scientists, was that the Russians could easily offset our establishment of the ABM simply by installing more offensive missiles of their own.

One wonders if the ABM program is not losing support in the public's eye, also. More and more, it is becoming apparent that the system may or may not be a substantial contribution to the nation's defense. And more and more, there are voices being raised against the further expenditure of funds for military purposes.

At the same time, the need is pressing for appropriations to meet domestic problems of poverty, unemployment, education, transportation, conservation and many other things. We have a feeling that if opponents to the ABM plan can only buy enough time, the tide may well swing against the plan. If this would give emphasis to efforts at finding real peace, it would be a far better thing for us and the world than a missile program which offers, at best, only temporary protection.

Steamroller Tactics Of Senator Dirksen

WASHINGTON — Sooner or later President Nixon has got to decide whether he's going to stick with the vigorous and growing liberal wing of the Republican party or with the hoary oldsters led by that dramatic apostle of reaction, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, former chairman of the GOP National Committee and assistant to Dirksen as GOP whip, wanted: "How much more of this before there is a liberal GOP rebellion? Not very much."

Sen. Scott did not mention Dirksen. He didn't have to. For in case after case the tuba-toned senator from Illinois has gone directly counter to his President and each time his President has retreated. Here is the roll call of Dirksen victories:

☆ ☆ ☆

1. Dirksen axed a revision of the export cotrol act barring trade with communist countries just at a time when his President was planning a trip to Romania, a country which we have encouraged to be independent and which wants more than anything else trade with the U.S.A.

Sens. Ed Muskie, Me., and Walter Mondale, Minn., had worked out a liberalized East-West trade policy, but Dirksen reacted as if the nation were in dire peril. Quickly, Nixon retreated. Meanwhile Japan, West Germany and other American allies continue doing a thriving business selling goods to communist countries, which American merchants under the old law cannot do.

2. Dirksen is the sole Senate force pushing for a constitutional convention in order to reverse the Supreme Court's one-man-one vote ruling for the reapportionment of state legislatures. Many state legislatures have already reapportioned and find that the ruling gives a much fairer break to the suburbs and big cities, most of them in trouble from lack of legislative representation.

Yet Dirksen persists in demanding that a constitutional convention be called for the first time since 1787 to revamp the Constitution of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson to his own taste.

Most of Sen. Dirksen's Senate colleagues are so scared of this move that Sen. Sam Ervin of North Carolina, a former judge and a conservative Democrat, has introduced legislation aimed at heading Dirksen off.

Despite this, the alleged Senate leader of the Nixon administration threatens to tack his constitutional convention bill onto a bill confirming ex-Secretary Robert McNamara to be a director of the Smithsonian Institution.

3. The Dirksen roadblock of Dr. Knowles is too recent to require review here. But this was only part of a list of presidential appointments which Dirksen has either engineered or blocked.

East European Policies Not Likely To Alter Because Of President's Visit To Bucharest

NEW YORK — The first thing the Romanians did after hearing that President Nixon had accepted an invitation to visit Bucharest was to tell the Soviet government, and the second thing they did was to publish in their official press a long article on Romanian-Soviet friendship.

It can be assumed from this that President Ceausescu of Romania has a clear view of what is primary and what is secondary. He is determined to assert the independence of his country, and no doubt the Nixon visit dramatizes his right to talk to the leaders of the West, but the Romanian government is quite different from the Czech government under Dubcek.

The Romanian government rejects the new Soviet doctrine that what's good for Moscow is good for all other communist governments of Eastern Europe, but unlike Dubcek's Czechoslovakia, the Ceausescu regime is rigidly communist and orthodox at home. It may use the visit of Nixon to dramatize a more liberal foreign policy line, but at the same time it recognizes the geographical facts of life and reassures Moscow that it is loyal to the communist philosophy.

President Nixon's priorities are less clear. He is now coming up against the hard realities of poverty, inflation, racial tension, and the budget squeeze at home. Even the crime wave has not yielded to all the campaign rhetoric about law and order.

Meanwhile, his hopes and plans for peace in Vietnam, which, if realized, might have provided some of the missing funds for the home front, are running into the most maddening obstacles, and he is beginning to feel — and to show — the pressures from the conservatives in his own party and the progressives in the opposition.

All this was predictable, if not inevitable. What is interesting, as it always is when a new president has to face the intracable facts for the first time, is how he reacts. And his reaction recently has been visibly less calm and prudent than in the first few months of his administration.

For a time, he held the moderate line against the pressures of the political conservatives and the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon, and it is undoubtedly still his aim to end the war and reach a military arms accommodation with the Soviets, but it is hard to see how his projected journey to Asia and Romania promotes these primary goals.

The official line at the White House is that he is going to Asia to persuade the leaders there that they must work together in a system of collective security, and that he is going to Bucharest, not to encourage the Romanian government to take an anti-Soviet line, but merely as a gesture of friendship to the peoples of Eastern Europe.

But in Asia he is almost certain to be greeted, not with offers of help in building a collective security system, but with appeals to maintain American power in that part of the world against communist expansion.

Similarly, the important thing in Eastern Europe is not what the President thinks of his trip, but how it is interpreted by Moscow and the other communist capitals, and it is already being interpreted there as an attempt to encourage the Eastern Europeans to be more independent of Moscow without any possibility of help from Washington if the Russians react with hostility to their independence.

As a matter of fact, President Nixon cannot have any illusions that the Eastern Europeans will change their policies toward Moscow merely because he drops by for a few hours in Bucharest. He wouldn't like to deal with the consequences if they did. But he has always tended to think in terms of politics and of public relations rather than in terms of policy, and his trip to Asia and Romania probably should be regarded in this light.

It is much easier to go to Asia than to stay home and face the terrible problem of deciding how to end the war or control the arms race. The big presidential jet is at hand ready to circumnavigate the globe. The reporters and the cameras are not only prepared but eager to follow him and record all the scenes at all the airports and palaces, and maybe on the way, some thoughtful official may come up with a new idea for ending the fighting.

The history of these journeys however, is that the big jet is a better instrument for running away from problems than for settling them. It commands the headlines and the television screens. For a few days, it diverts public attention from the main things to the secondary things, and from policy to personality.

Census Question

Lincoln, Neb.

A year ago Republican Edward J. Gurney of Florida reported that the federal government was shaping up a new racket, to be smacked upon the unsuspecting public through the 1970 census-takers. He was attempting to warn the population so they could make protests to representatives in Washington to make formal disapproval against such invasion of our personal privacy.

The asking of some 120 questions that are no one's business but our own is belittling and embarrassing. Refusing to cooperate, we are threatened with a $100 fine and 60 days in jail. What kind of dictatorship are we being plunged into?

We are promised that this information will be held in strictest confidence in government files. I quote from the Drew Pearson column of April 23, 1969: "Even the President voiced no denial that the government sells census data to credit bureaus and other outfits."

Down through the months, some 140 honest men in Congress have protested so vigorously that some changes have been made. Rep. Jackson Betts of Ohio proposed a bill to the 91st Congress, reducing the questions to eight required answers.

To date the questions setup is: Out of every five households, four will be asked to answer 23 inquiries. One out of seven will answer an additional 43. One out of 20 will get a larger questionnaire. The maximum number of questions is 86.

In the first place, this set-up is unfair. All should have the same number of questions. Second, we can bet that the mighty rich will have none of their privacy invaded. They will not have to tell how, when and where their every dollar comes from: only the hard-working little wage-earners. In the same way that they wiggle out of paying taxes on their millions, they will escape the prying questions of the census, who will know the sign of those whose business is their own.

The Guidelines

Lincoln, Neb.

I appreciated very much your editorial of June 27, regarding the fatal shooting by an Omaha policeman of a 14-year-old girl.

It seems particularly sad to me that the reaction of our Legislature to the killing of a 14-year-old girl was to rush through anti-riot legislation instead of considering possible action that should be taken to form stricter guidelines for the use of sidearms by police officers.

I couldn't help but wonder if our Legislature would have been a little more concerned with the way peace officers use their weapons if a Negro officer had shot and killed a 14-year-old white girl in a middle-class white neighborhood.

Seeking Cause

Bennet, Neb.

Some people can see a phony a mile away and others can't see one when they look in the mirror. Since no one is perfect, I'll vote for the editor who stands up for the underdog any time. During the Clay Shaw trial, an editor of a metropolitan daily was surprised when it took the jury 50 minutes to clear him, and shortly afterwards he admitted on TV that he had lied in court.

Often those who appear so concerned for justice in some cases don't lift a finger in other cases, especially if they are filled with race hatred. We all have read or heard about the murders committed in the Southland where because of race hatred, some never were given even a trial and those who were set free. Yes, it depends on whose ox is being gored.

It would profit all of us to read "Let's Set Black History Straight" in the July Reader's Digest. We should look for the cause and not just doctor the symptoms.

Patchwork Prairie Country

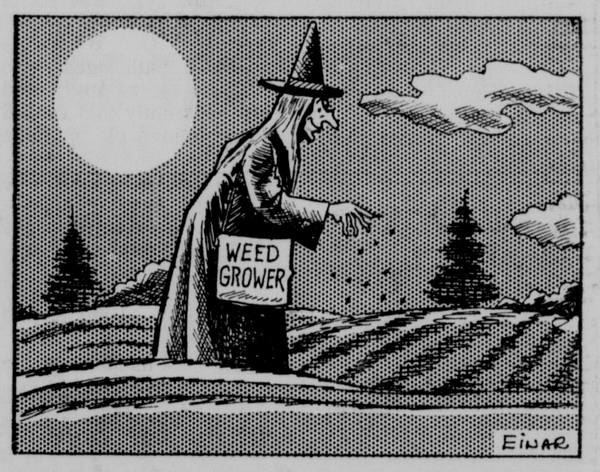
Between the rains and humid weather, The Farmer finally chopped the hay to put one more summer task behind him. The Dickcissel birds kept singing encouragement to him as he worked in the hay field.

Such wild ecstatic calling! Such frenzied leaps of flight between the windrows of hay! With their black markings beneath their throats, they looked as if they were wearing their choral robes.

☆ ☆ ☆

As soon as one task is completed, another falls into place. The Farmer is cultivating now. Though the cool sunless days have not brought the crops along in the usual burst of growth, the cultivating must be done. Weeds seem to ignore cool weather and sunless days.



They grow just as if some magic potion were sprinkled over them.

I have visions of a wicked old witch tiptoeing through the fields at night, sprinkling her magic weed grower between the rows, while overhead a big silvery moon rides high. Surely the sly glint in her eyes must grow brighter as she sees the weeds flourish under her spell.

By the looks of the weeds growing in my flower garden, I think there are a few amateur witches taking on the job training — young, eager and ambitious.

Our cherry trees have a good crop of fruit. Big and scarlet, juicy and full-fleshed the cherries hang. To The Farmer, it means getting the long ladder anchored in the tree and picking the tops of the trees.

The apricots are growing larger. Though still very green and immature, they should provide a welcome change of fruit. The June drop of apricots was heavy but when I look at the tree, I know it was necessary.

If every apricot reached maturity that set on early in the spring, the old tree would bend to the ground under the weight.

I am waiting to make a fresh apricot pie, all oozy and sugary sweet between a crisp crust. Apricot cobbler sounds appetizing, too.

Some of the fruit will go into the deep-freeze. Perhaps I should say all of it will go into the deep freeze since we like this method better than canning it in jars. The fresh frozen fruits, cooked at the time they are to be eaten, are so much more flavorful. They taste as if they had just been picked from the trees.

☆ ☆ ☆

The pastures are lush and green. Our black cows and calves graze contentedly, then find a favorite hillside when they have eaten their fill. It makes a polka-dotted pattern on the pasture land — black against green — as pastoral a sight as one would ever wish to see.

Reader Goes Contrary To Broker's Advice

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. — "For years I acted on my broker's advice whenever I had a little extra money to invest in stocks. But I gradually discovered that his ideas weren't as good as mine. When I retired from the printing business last year I decided to ask my broker's advice about stocks that interested me and then do exactly the opposite. Remarkably, the stocks I've purchased have shown a 36 per cent increase in value, as against a mere 12 per cent gain I would have had if I'd followed his advice. Just thought you'd like to know."

A.—Maybe you should set yourself up in business as an investment counselor. Investing in stocks involves a lot of guess work because there are so many "iffy" circumstances to consider. While you may have had luck going contrary to your broker's advice, I think most investors need the counsel of men experienced in stocks and bonds. While they're not always right, they are in the best position to help the layman plan a solid and substantial investment program.

Q.—"My father, 82, walks with difficulty, is totally deaf, and has very poor eyesight. He lives alone in a two-room apartment, cooks his own meals, never complains, but seems so terribly alone. We come by for a visit every Sunday afternoon, but can barely communicate as we have to write everything in large letters on a large pad. What's best for him?"

A.—If he's not complaining there may be nothing to worry about. Many older people learn to accept solitude and loneliness as a part of the aging process. See if you can't employ someone to drop by for an hour each day to communicate with him via pencil and pad. Consider getting him an affectionate cat to share his hours. If he seems restless, explore possibilities of moving him to a residence for older people where he can see and sense people around him and where assistance will be available if necessary.

A.—"Our problem is an indifferent daughter. Although we put her through college and gave her $500 when she married, she treats us as though we were mere acquaintances. We didn't like the man she married but we relented at the last minute. He has never forgiven us and she sides with him. She never telephones, but I phone every week or so. She's polite but has nothing to say. The two times we've been in their home were when we drove over and walked up to the door. What can we do?"

A.—Children can be both a blessing and a heartache, and my mail indicates your problem in varying degrees exists in many more families than is generally believed. You should arrange a discussion and give your daughter and her husband full chance to air their pent-up grievances against you. Be willing to take all the blame—even though it may not be yours. Show full contrition for whatever you've done that bothers them. If this doesn't work, about all you can do is continue to show your interest in them and hope this may eventually break the barriers which prevent you from enjoying the affection which should exist between older parents and grown children.

Communist Trade Question Comes Under New Scrutiny

Washington (AP) — The whole question of trade with Communist nations is coming under new State Department scrutiny in the light of President Nixon's forthcoming visit to Romania.

For one question the President will surely be asked in Bucharest is: What will you do to allow us to sell more to you and buy more from you in the future?"

If Nixon wants them, there are two suggestions percolating through the working ranks of the State Department, although the attitude of Secretary William P. Rogers remains unknown:

—Resurrection of some form of the Johnson administration's East-West Trade act, authorizing the President to grant most-favored-nation tariff treatment to eastern European countries, including Romania.

—Reversal of the National Security Council's May 21 decision — reached before Nixon decided to become the first U.S. president to cross through the Iron Curtain since World War II — to ask Congress to continue the restrictions of the Export Control Act, which limits exports to Communist countries.

If Nixon agrees to either or both of these recommendations, he would at least be in a position to tell Romanian leaders that his administration will attempt to build new trade bridges with that country.

Knowledgeable sources say there is no doubt the question will arise in Nixon's talks with Nicolae Ceausescu, Romania's Communist leader.

Most officials regard the May 21 National Security Council decision as unfortunate.

This Week's Health Tip

Here's a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association:

We have all been warned about stepping on rusty nails, but did you know that tetanus — sometimes called lockjaw — can also be caused by cuts or scratches so minor they are hardly noticeable? Cases of tetanus have been recorded following insect bites and even a scratch from a rose thorn.

Protection against tetanus is a simple matter. Immunization with tetanus toxoid is almost always effective.

Although the toxoid is readily available, fewer than one-third of the pre-school children in Nebraska have received the triple vaccine against diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus. About three-fourths of all Nebraska adults are probably lacking in immunity.

If you have not had a tetanus vaccination, or if it has been a long time since you had a booster shot, you should ask your family physician about tetanus toxoid vaccine.

Road Dept. Unit Streamlined

The Department of Roads' right-of-way division has been streamlined into two major sections from its former five, State Engineer Marvin Nuernberger said Wednesday.

Nuernberger said the change over, which became official this week, is the continued phasing-in of the organization plan recommended for the department by the 1967 comprehensive highway study.

Walter Witt, right-of-way engineer and division director, said the division's responsibilities have been divided into major sections, headed by assistant directors.

Fred Briggs is in charge of the preacquisition section, handling the layout and design and appraisal functions, and Larry Shafer will head the acquisition and administration section, including negotiations, property management and relocation assistance.

Relocation assistance is a new requirement of federal law in the acquisition of right-of-way for federally-aided highways. Property owners displaced by highway improvements must be offered assistance in relocating their residence or businesses.

Witt said the department's legal staff is no longer assigned to the right-of-way divisions, but functions directly under the state engineer.

The legal section, headed by Assistant Attorney General Harold Salter, was transferred to the state engineer's office last December as part of the study's recommendations.

Nuernberger said organizational changes in the department's eight district offices are planned during July as part of the study.

The state engineer also said computerization of the department's equipment and material supplies is ahead of schedule, and will be fully implemented by July, 1970.

Bennet Slates Old-Fashioned Fourth Of July

The town of Bennet, located just southeast of Lincoln, will have an old-fashioned day-long celebration for the Fourth of July Friday.

Events begin with a parade at 10 a.m. There will be a picnic at noon, entertainment from 12:15 to 4 p.m., a horse show at 12:30, a speech by Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, wife of the former governor, at 3:30 p.m., games at 4:15 p.m., a pee wee ball game at 6:30 p.m. and a dance at 8:30.

In addition, there will be a fireworks display starting at dark.

Chest Agencies' Planning, Education Funds Allocated

Funds requested by Community Chest agencies for planning and educational activities will be allocated according to the recommendations of the Lincoln Community Council, it was decided here Wednesday.

The Chest board of directors approved a recommendation to place the responsibility for planning and education functions with the council in order to promote coordination and eliminate apparent duplication of effort and expense.

The effect of the resolution will be to designate the Community Council as a subcommittee of the Chest budget committee. The Council will review requests for planning and education funds from Chest agencies and make recommendations for funding to the Chest budget committee.

About $52,000 was requested for planning and education activities next year by the Chest agencies, in addition to the Community Council budget, according to Chest director Jack Ahern.

In addition to assuming the responsibility for distribution of funds to approved planning and public education agencies and programs, the council will be asked to determine annually priority areas for planning and education and to be accountable for the "relevancy and efficiency of planning and public education programs undertaken."

Dobson's Bid Apparent Low

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. bid of $18,766.55 was the apparent low bid Wednesday on a storm sewer project at 56th and Van Dorn Sts.

H. R. Bookstrom Construction Co. was the only other bidder.

Power Halted Temporarily At University

Electric power was halted temporadily at the University of Nebraska Wednesday after a current transformer at 14th and Avery exploded.

The cause of the explosion was not known, and officials at a Lincoln Electricity System dispatching office said power was interrupted for more than an hour.

Adjacent areas of the city were also without electricity for a short period following the transformer failure.

Date For Issuing Liquor Permit To Auditorium Set

The State Liquor Commission will issue a liquor permit to the Pershing Municipal Auditorium Association, Inc. on Aug. 2 unless formal complaints are filed by that date.

Charles Humble, assistant city attorney, said, "If the commission receives three formal complaints by the deadline, it will then set a date for a public hearing."

He added that "any protests would delay the issuance of a license."

The auditorium advisory board has been seeking a liquor license for the auditorium as a means of attracting conventions.

The liquor permit application states that alcoholic beverages would only be served at private functions where minors are not present.

Zoning Appeals Board Approves Building Permit

The Board of Zoning Appeals Wednesday approved granting Hubert Hall a building permit on a home at 3701 Loveland Dr.

The city's building inspection division had refused to issue a permit because the house did not meet the side yard requirements.

Hall appealed that "the property is irregular-shaped."

A deck to the house extended five feet too far into the side yard.

ACTION LINE: An investigation disclosed no evidence of snakes or bites.

Why can't we have less noise from these motorcycles? Is t the law that's weak or the enforcement?
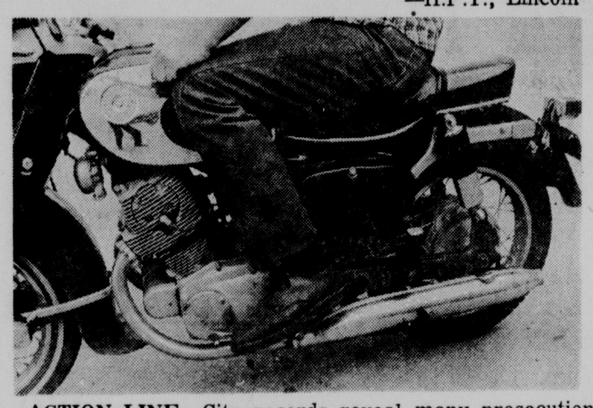
—H.P.T., Lincoln



ACTION LINE: City records reveal many prosecutions of unduly loud motorcycles. City Ordinance 10.32.300 says: "Every motor vehicle operated within the city shall be provided with a muffler. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate any motor vehicle without a muffler or with a muffler open or in any other manner as to make any noise unnecessary in the normal operation of such vehicle . . ." Stopping a cycle is largely the judgment of the officer who then must examine the vehicle and determine if it is unlawfully equipped. The law could perhaps be expanded to require more muffling by certain vehicles and this would be a job for the City Council.

I just bought a used car and upon paying car taxes, I found I had to pay from the date I bought the car — not the date I went to the courthouse. Then I was burned to find I had to pay for the entire month of June even though I bought the car June 20.
—Irate Taxpayer, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: State law requires the county treasurer to go by the date on the title transference — June 20. but you still pay from the date the title was signed over — June 20. Taxes are prorated by the month, not days within the month. No matter if you had purchased the auto June 30, you still would have paid taxes for the entire month of June. But, look at it this way — you received a rebate for the remainder of the year for the car you traded and only had to pay $4 for a half year of the city wheel tax. That salved your hurt pocketbook a bit?

While touring our neighboring state of South Dakota recently — city of Deadwood in particular — I noticed the rim of the valley in which Deadwood is located is lined with dead trees. I presume this is how the town got its name many years ago, but I want to know what caused the trees to die. —Curious Traveler, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: Trees are absenit from the ridge because on September 8, 1959, a fire completely surrounded the town of Deadwood, burning the green trees and leaving the blackened stubs on the crest of the hills. Deadwood derived its name, according to the South Dakota State Historical Society, from Deadwood creek and gulch near and in which — the town was founded on April 26, 1876. The creek and gulch were named Deadwood from the vast amount of dead wood there caused from normal tree death and burned wood from lightning caused fires, say the historical records.

Why so much in the newspaper and the hours on television devoted to making Prince Charles the Prince of Wales? I missed my favorite morning TV programs because of this. —Mad Lincolnite ACTION LINE: Extensive coverage was given to Prince Charles' investiture as Prince of Wales because it was history in the making. He is only the 21st Prince of Wales, with the last investiture 58 years ago. The ceremony remains unchanged through centuries with heralds, knights, banners, trumpets and foreign dignitaries.

They Are 'Right Size,' 'Right Shape' But 'Wrong Age' For Today's Fashions

Not long ago I printed some of the things women and men have written me about women's current fashions. At the end of the column I suggested that my readers send in their pet peeves if they have any. I have been deluged with mail. I cannot print many in today's column but I will give you a sampie and later on I may print a few more.

"I have been selling clothes in this store for 25 years. I started young so I am not an old fogy. I might add that this is a very lovely store.

"However, for some time now, I have been as frustrated as the women who come to buy clothes. They have the money and a sense of style and the taste and inclination to wear up-to-date BUT flattering clothes.

"What do I have to show them? I have dresses so short that they cannot be lengthened enough to cover the kneecaps. I have dress after dress without any sleeves, and all kinds of bizarre cuts and designs which would make anyone past 35, and maybe younger, look like a 'hatchet woman.'"

This next one is signed — "An office force of women." It says, "Everything in your article can be applied to us. We cannot find clothes which flatter us. Everything seems to be designed for teen-agers."

Another — "I have a gripe about women's clothes. I am small. I weigh 95 pounds and am 5 feet tall. I have a 16-year-old daughter who wears the same size I do. The fashions look cute on a teen-ager, but being 20 years her senior, I would feel ridiculous, and I know I would look just as silly as a lot of middle age women DO, who wear them."

"I cannot find a dress in the stores that isn't strictly designed for teen-agers. What are we supposed to do?"

Excerpts from other letters:

"I go shopping for some clothes and come back with nothing! Of course if one can sew, that's fine, or if one can afford custom-made clothes, that's fine too."

More — "I am sick of seeing flabby upper arms and do not wish to have mine on parade. For this reason shopping has become a chore rather than a pleasure. It is dresses with even very short sleeves."

You CAN improve flabby upper arms with special exercises. If you would like to have mine, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the leaflet, "Armfuls of Beauty." Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star.

About That Room—

A room is just a room until you stamp it with the unmistakable signature of your personality, that added flavor which signifies the room reflects your personal tastes. And with the severe architecture of today, personalized decorating has become more important than ever before in transforming a cold shell into a comfortable "look-as-if-lived-in" room. Whether it be a vibrant scheme composed of your favorite colors, a potpourri of treasured accessories, or simply the overall atmosphere you create, something of yourself will be reflected in your total decorative scheme.

A melange of color can be the springboard for your personal decorative inspiration. In fact, when combined with varied and interesting textures, a color scheme becomes a most valuable vehicle for giving a room warmth and character. By surrounding yourself with your favorite shades, either in a monochromatic scheme or in a tasteful combination of hues, you can easily convey an immediate impression of a room's mood or theme, be it informal and gay or more subdued and elegant. For example, warm shades, such as a sunburst of golds, reds, and oranges, help envelope even the most architecturally uninspiring room with a scintillating glow, just as the cool, crisp tones of blues and greens can provoke an aura of tranquility. And since color can be the catalyst that sparks warmth and personalized zest in a room, why not use it to best advantage by combining it with other distinctively decorative elements?

A clever infusion of furniture and accessories should work together to give a room individuality and flair. The reserved elegance of 17th and 18th century English furniture is enhanced by the proper choice of accessories. An imposing lamp or chandelier, such as one of the classic designs, can make the difference between an average room and one of distinctive character. Just one carefully selected accessory or furnishing can provide the keynote for a new decorative dimension with personal taste and warmth the outstanding features.

For Rose Gardeners

One of the biggest enemies of roses is also one of the smallest — the aphid. Aphids (which is a polite name for plant lice) are very small insects, usually pale green or pink in color. They arrive in spring and cluster on roses, usually around the developing buds and tender foliage. If uncontrolled, they literally suck the life out of the buds so that those long-awaited roses never develop. As if that weren't bad enough, they leave a sticky residue that attracts flies and ants. To combat aphids, start a protective program early by spraying with a rose and flower spray. Use it early and often and you can probably stop your aphid problem before it starts.

For the rose gardener, hot dry periods mean more than just additional watering. These are the conditions under which spider mites thrive and do their greatest damage. Almost microscopic in size, these red-colored sucking insects pierce the undersides of leaves, sucking out vital juices and leaving a cobwebby cover. Leaves that look dry and yellow and fall are usually an indication of spider mites. A sure test for these destructive pets is to hold a piece of white paper under a suspicious leaf and tap it. If you have mites, they'll fall to the paper and you'll know the worst. Treatment for spider mites requires a miticide, since ordinary insecticides like DDT won't work.

Sauce For The Fish

Outdoor entertaining is an American way of life during the warm summer months. The urge to cook in the open air is not limited to our country, however. It takes various forms throughout the world.

The Scandinavians, who devised some of the most attractive small grills available today, are specialists at the art of grilling fish. Their secret is to keep it simple. Lean fish are basted to keep them from drying; otherwise, the flavoring is left to the sauce or spread served over the fish.

Best for grilling are the firm-fleshed halibut, cod, salmon or swordfish steaks. Brush the grill with melted margarine before placing fish on it to prevent sticking. Serve one or more of these sauces on the side.

DANISH PARSLEY SAUCE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup chicken broth
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

In a small saucepan melt the butter or margarine. Remove from heat; blend in flour and salt. Return mixture to heat. Cook, stirring, until mixture is thick and bubbly, about 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from heat; gradually stir in chicken broth. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in lemon juice, then stir in parsley. Pour into serving dish. If desired, garnish with a sprig of parsley. Serve over grilled fish. Makes about 1¼ cups.

SWEDISH DILL SAUCE

2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 tablespoon flour
1½ teaspoons dill weed
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup chicken broth
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons lemon juice

In a small saucepan melt margarine or butter. Remove from heat. Blend in flour, dill weed and dry mustard. Return to heat. Cook mixture, stirring, until thick and bubbly, about 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from heat; gradually stir in chicken broth. Continue to cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Stir a small amount of hot mixture into egg yolk, then stir egg yolk mixture back into saucepan. Blend in lemon juice; pour into serving dish. Serve over grilled fish. Makes about 1¼ cups.

It Tastes So Good

Poteca is a nut-filled sweet loaf prepared in numerous different shapes. This version is a coiled round loaf; the pecan filling is flavored with a hint of orange. The rich sweet dough is prepared by the Rapidmix Method developed to eliminate the guesswork in bread-baking. Instead of dissolving yeast in warm water, Rapidmix treats it as a dry ingredient — tossed in with flour, sugar and salt.

Drizzled with confectioners' sugar frosting, Poteca may be served as a breakfast bread, accompaniment for midday coffee or tea — even for dessert.

POTECA

3 to 4 cups unsifted flour
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 package active dry yeast
½ cup milk
½ cup water
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine or butter
1 egg (at room temperature)
Confectioners' sugar frosting

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1 cup flour, sugar, salt and undissolved dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine or butter in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt). Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat for 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and ½ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed for 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours.

Punch dough down; turn-out onto lightly floured board. Roll dough out to a 20x15-inch rectangle. Spread with Pecan Filling (below). Starting at wide side of dough, roll up as for jelly roll. Seal edges. Gently pull dough to make a 25-inch roll. Form into a snail shape on a large greased baking sheet. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheet and cool on wire rack. When cooled, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes 1 cake.

PECAN FILLING: Mix together ¼ cup (½ stick) margarine or butter, ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar, and 1 egg. Stir in 2 tablespoons milk and 1 teaspoon orange extract. Blend in 2 cups finely chopped pecans.

Busy Days Ahead In Suburban Areas

July certainly is turning out to be an eventful month. On its very first day was the investiture of Prince Charles as the Prince of Wales. Then comes another highlight later this month when the world will watch history in the making that is when two United States astronauts will become the first men to walk on the moon.

While all this excitement is happening millions of miles away, we are sure that there will be some eventful happenings around the Lincoln area. It appears that July plans to keep suburban residents runusually busy. One of the favorite pastimes during the warm days of July is travel. Traditionally well-traveled Nebraskans seem to be including just about every state in the union on their vacation itinerary, but a new form of travel seems to be especially popular this year, camping.

Two of Hollywood Heights' most avid campers are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Killion. The Killions, who are members of the Lincoln Rolling Teepees Campers, will be spending the Fourth of July camping at the Tuttle Creek Campgrounds at Manhattan, Kan. They will be joining 128 fellow campers who are taking advantage of the three day weekend to clean up the campgrounds in the area. We understand that the campers are planning a big Fourth of July celebration which will include a picnic and a fireworks display.

The Killions had just recently returned home following a three-day camping trip in York. While there they participated in the state camping convention which was hosted by the Omaha Explorers.

Among the other Lincoln campers who will be attending the festivities at Tuttle Creek will be the Northeast Heights family of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Zavadile and their three children Doug, Julie and Bonnie. The Zavadiles will continue their vacation by attending the national camping convention which will be held the middle of July at Rocks Pond Plantation, S.C. The Zavadile family will be gone a month and we understand that they will be camping the entire time.

TALK

We would need columns and columns to tell you all of the interesting places Lincoln people are visiting — and all of the interesting things they are doing at the moment. But we'll wait until all are present or accounted for before we tell tales.

* * *

Since we can't talk about people who are away, we'll talk about people who have arrived — a guest, for example.

Mrs. Martha Ivaldy came from New York City a few days ago for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Deweese. Mrs. Ivaldy, as you already may know, is teaching and working on her doctorate at Columbia University, or perhaps we should say that she HAS been teaching since we understand that she has a Fellowship for the coming year and that means that she can devote all of her time to study.

* * *

We hear that Mrs. Ivaldy plans to spend a month in Lincoln and that is good. Otherwise she might miss seeing her sister, Mrs. George Day and her niece, Miss Kathy Day who are traveling abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Day and their daughter left for Europe about a month ago and spent the first three weeks in southern Germany and London. Then Mr. Day returned home but Mrs. Day and their daughter went on to the Scandinavian countries where they now are traveling. They plan to return to Lincoln in about two weeks.

There is news of a brand new Kappa Sigma legacy this morning — He is Brian Jens Petersen who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Tuesday, July 1. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary L. Petersen, and his mother is the former Phyllis Presnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Presnell of Fayetteville, N.C., Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Petersen of Lincoln are the paternal grandparents.

Wednesday Bride

At a 7 o'clock ceremony on Wednesday evening, July 2, the wedding of Miss Marsha Lee Will, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Will, and A1C Brian Earl Kempkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Kempkes took place at the Grace United Methodist Church. The Rev. Miles Jackson solemnized the service before a background of white gladioli, and Mrs. Ervin Unvert played the wedding music. Carroll Mitchell was the vocal soloist.

Floor-length, A-line frocks of Nile green georgette over taffeta were chosen for the attendants including Miss Beverly Will who was her sister's maid of honor; bridesmaid Miss Linda Keller and bridesmatron, Mrs. Bruce A. Kempkes. Their bouquets were of yellow chrysanthemums.

Bruce Kempkes served as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Pieper and Neil Anderson.

The bride appeared in a gown of organza and Peau d'Ange lace. Jeweled lace patterned the smoothly sculptured bodice, designed with a crescent neckline and elbow-length sleeves which were fashioned with flared cuffs. The jeweled lace was repeated in applique on the A-line, silhouette skirt, and on the wide train which extended from the waistline into cotillion length. Her triple-tiered veil was held to the head with a flower-trimmed bandeau of lace and she carried a cascade arrangement of orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Mr. Kempkes and his bride will reside in Abilene, Tex., where the bridegroom, a former student at the University of Nebraska, is stationed at Dyess Air Force Base.

MISS JOAN SWANSON

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Silas Swanson of Staplehurst make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joan, to Leslie Schildt, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Schildt of Pleasant Dale.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Swanson is a graduate of Dana College and has been teaching in the Seward and York County school systems.

MISS LINDA HINER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hiner of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda, to Eugene Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Cunningham.

The wedding will take place on Saturday evening, Aug. 9, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the St. James Methodist Church.

Both Miss Hiner and her fiance are careering in Lincoln.

MISS KITTY McMANUS

Of particular interest to town and campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Judge and Mrs. Thomas McManus of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kitty, to Davis Strauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Strauss.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Sept. 6.

Miss McManus is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and of Pi Lambda Theta honorary. She now is a member of the Lincoln public schools faculty.

Mr. Strauss is attending the University of Nebraska where he is majoring in architecture.

July Meeting Planned

The Parents Without Partners will begin their July meetings on Friday evening, July 11, when they will attend the musical production "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" at Pinewood Bowl in Pioneer Park. Members are asked to meet at the west side of Pinewood Bowl.

On Sunday afternoon, July 13, members will participate in a "family day" at Oak Lake Park. The activities will begin at 2 o'clock, and they will include a children's fishing contest and free watermelon for all attending.

A general meeting will be held on Saturday evening, July 19, at Union Loan and Savings, 56th and O Sts. The program will be a panel discussion entitled "Can Parents Be Blamed for Everything?"

PEO Coffee

Members of Chapter DK, PEO will meet for a 10 o'clock coffee next Thursday morning, July 10, at the home of Mrs. Vern D. Carey, 1001 S. 35th St.

Honorees

Guests of honor at a prenuptial dinner which will take place Friday evening, July 4, will be Miss Julie Cosier and Robert Corner, whose marriage is to be solemnized on Saturday, July 5. Host and hostess at the event which will take place at the Congress Inn, will be Mr. Corner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Corner, of Blue Hill.

Square Dance Scheduled

The members of Lincoln Council of Round and Square Dance Clubs will hold a dance Saturday evening, July 5 at the Antelope Park Pavilion. The Council will sponsor the event which will begin at 9 o'clock.

Courtesy Honors August Bride-Elect

The pre-nuptial courtesies have begun for late summer bride-elect, Miss Andrea Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lutz, whose marriage to Robert A. Eveland will be an event of Aug. 2.

On Sunday evening, June 29, Miss Lutz was honored at a party, attended by a group of her friends for which Miss Rhea Steele and Mrs. William Graham were hostesses at the get-together which took place at the home of Miss Steele. During the evening the guests presented the soon-to-be bride with a personal shower.

Both Miss Lutz and her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delos D. Eveland, are students at the University of Nebraska.

Abby: don't judge method too soon

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law is paying $35 an hour to a doctor who must be as crazy as she is. This psychiatrist told her that in order to build her "self respect" she should cut out the "hypocrisy" and always say exactly what she thinks. She must be his star pupil because she is following his orders to the letter.

Not only that, but he told her to encourage her children to say exactly what THEY think, too. That is bad enough, but he also told her that words are only words and they don't "mean" anything, so not to react with horror or disgust if her kids talk dirty. Just ignore it.

Can you imagine what it's like at their house? Thank God my husband is dead, or this would kill him.

My son tells me not to pay attention to all this, but how can you ignore such uncivilized behavior? Since you are always plugging psychiatry I would like to hear your views on the subject.

CONFUSED IN PHILA.

DEAR CONFUSED: Anyone who is seeing a psychiatrist has my profound respect because it's proof that he is trying to help himself.

Be patient, and don't judge so early in the game. The whole family could be better off eventually for what appears at the moment to be an overdose of honesty.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin, who recently was married, accepted a baby-sitting job for a family with 10 children while the parents went off on a weeks's vacation. My cousin and her husband stayed at the house and took complete charge of these children whose ages ranged from 5 months old to 15 years old, feeding, dressing, supervising play, cleaning the house and doing at least two loads of washing every single day.

Well, when the parents came home, they figured out that the "sitters" should be paid the grand total of $54!

My cousin was furious. What is you opinion?

INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: This should be a good lesson to your cousin (and others who read this) to have a meeting of minds concerning the pay for any kind of job before it's accepted.

DEAR ABBY: "JEALOUS," who doesn't like the idea of his wife going out with a married co-worker for a steak dinner paid for by the loser of their weight-losing contest, should inform the two dieters that while THEY are having steaks, he will drop by the gentleman's home for POT LUCK with HIS wife.

the squeeze is powerful weapon

West dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 10 3
♥ A 9 4
♦ Q J 2
♣ K 6 4 2

WEST
♠ 2
♥ K Q J 8 6 3 2
♦ 6 4 3
♣ Q 10

EAST
♠ A 7 6 4
♥ 5

♣ A 9 8 7 5

SOUTH
♠ K J 9 8 5
♥ 10 7
♦ A K 9 8
♣ J 3

The bidding:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| 3 ♥ | Pass | Pass | 3 ♠ |
| Pass | 4 ♠ | | |

Opening lead — king of hearts.

The squeeze can be an enormously powerful weapon when properly applied. Here is an unusual case from a rubber bridge game.

South was in four spades and West led the king of hearts. Declarer won with the ace, led the queen of spades, which held, and another spade, taken by East with the ace. East returned a diamond, making it clear that he had started with only one heart and West with seven.

Declarer won, drew two more rounds of trumps, and then cashed three more diamonds to produce this position:

North
♥ 9 4
♣ K 6

West
♥ Q J
♣ Q 10

East
♣ A 9 8 7

South
♠ 9
♥ 10
♣ J 3

South knew from the bidding that East had the ace of clubs, since West would not have made a preemptive bid with seven hearts to the K-Q-J and the ace of clubs on the side. It was therefore futile to lead a club at this point in the hope of finding West with the ace.

Instead, declarer led his last trump in the hope that West had the queen of clubs, in which case he would be hard put to find a convenient discard.

And so it turned out. West had to choose between discarding a heart or a club. When he elected to discard the ten of clubs, South led a low club to the king and made his tenth trick with the jack of clubs.

It would not have helped West to discard a heart. In that case, declarer would discard a heart from dummy and exit with a heart, forcing West to lead either the ten or queen of clubs to give South his tenth trick.

Talent Contest

The first four of twenty-five trophies were awarded Sunday afternoon, June 22, in Antelope Park. The trophies were awarded to winning acts in the Antelope Park district talent contest, part of the all-city talent contest currently being sponsored by the Lincoln Recreation Department. The talent contest is only part of the program being offered by the Show Wagon, which is touring Lincoln parks and playgrounds this summer. The Show Wagon was donated to the Recreation Department by the Journal-Star. It presents a varied program of comedy and family entertainment and is open to the public.

Awarded "Winner" trophies in the talent contest were 13-year old Karen Esquivel who played guitar and sang folk songs; and Genene Gibson, a 6-year-old, who danced "Hi-Diddle-Di-Di." The two winners will next compete in the all-city finals August 3, in Pinewood Bowl. There they will be competing with 10 other District winners yet to be selected.

Awarded "Runner-up" trophies were Genelle Gibson, 10, who danced "Modern Millie;" and 9-year olds, Cathy O'Brien and Jill and Jody Pershing, who danced "The Waltz Clog." They will compete again on a special "Runners-up" KOLN TV show, August 2.

The Show Wagon was at University Place Park last Sunday, June 29, at 2:00 P.M. for the University Place Park district talent-contest. Remaining District Contests will be held on following Sunday afternoons at Roberts, Bethany, Irvingdale, and Peter Pan Parks. Registrations are still being accepted for talent acts to audition at either Hawthorne (July 7), Meadowlane (July 8), Sheridan (July 14), and Merle Beattie (July 15) playgrounds or Pentzer Park (July 21), and Woods Park (July 22). There is no registration fee. Call the Lincoln Recreation Department, 423-2391, to register.

Court Lets Girl, 6, Off The Hook

Denver (UPI) — Little Dolly de Leon, 6, ticketed by police for zipping around outside her home on a motorized mini-bike, got off the hook Wednesday.

Denver city officials relented and decided to drop their case against Dolly.

But Dolly still will have to appear for arraignment in Denver County Court Thursday on three traffic charges stemming from the June 18 incident.

Asst. Denver City Atty. Wright Morgan said a motion for dismissal would be filed in the court Thursday.

"The case will be dismissed," Morgan said.

Crime Not Possible

Under Colorado law, Morgan said, a person under 12 "isn't capable of committing a crime, even murder."

The tot got the ticket from Patrolman Robert G. Johnson. He said Wednesday he was just doing his duty when he issued the ticket to Dolly, the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Chavez of Denver.

"I did what I'd do with anyone operating a motor vehicle under these conditions," Johnson said.

Johnson cited Dolly for operating a motor vehicle without a license, no inspection sticker and operating an unregistered vehicle.

Smile Not Enough

Before the city decided to drop the case, Dolly's attorney said that if the little girl's smile didn't convince the court of her innocence, he might enter a plea of innocent — by reason of infancy.

Johnson said Dolly's mother told him at the time he issued the ticket that "I'd receive a lot of heat out of this."

Police also confiscated the two-wheeled bike and had it hauled away by a tow-truck firm. Mrs. Chavez said the bike was recovered from the police car pound after she paid $11.25 for nine days' storage and $10 for the tow.

Nonagricultural Employment Down By 450 During May

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment was down by 450 during May, according to a monthly report by the State Labor Department's Division of Employment.

Construction was 400 below the April total and services were down by 100, with smaller declines noted in manufacturing and government.

Transportation, communicatons, utilities, finance, insurance and real estate remained at the same level and trades showed an increase.

The decline in the total employment segment, the report said, would be attributed largely to the number of worker involved in recent labor-management disputes.

Over the past year, employment rose by 2,950 workers in the Lincoln area. Nonagricultural wage and salary employment was up 3,000 over May 1968, but agricultural employment declined 100.

About 1,750 workers were unemployed during May — a decrease of 250 from April. The May employment ratio to total civilian work force was 2.1%, compared with 2.4% for April and 2.2% for May 1968.

Of the 1,650 active applicants registered for work at the Lincoln Employment Service Office during May, about 51% were female, the report said.

Writ Of Habeas Corpus Denied Man Serving Murder Sentence

U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt Wednesday denied a writ of habeas corpus to a Nebraska Penal Complex inmate serving time for second-degree murder from Douglas County.

Fred Dabney, who had pleaded innocent to the charge and was found guilty by a Douglas District Court jury, alleged he was denied a fair trial because the state intentionally suppressed evidence favorable to him.

He contended that the state refused to call two alleged eyewitnesses to the fatal shooting and that a pocket knife found at the scene was not available at the trial.

Judge Van Pelt held that the evidence which would have been produced by the two alleged eyewitnesses would not have caused the jury to have "a reasonable doubt" about the guilt of Dabney nor would it have had a "substantial likelihood of affecting the results of the trial."

In reference to the knife found at the scene, Judge Van Pelt held that the state did not intentionally lose the knife and that testimony established that it was likely the knife was lost in a remodeling process. The court further stated that the deceased's family was unable to identify it as belonging to the deceased.

Dabney had contended that prior to the shooting the deceased was poking him with the knife.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

When we came out into O'Connell Street, there was a shower of rain. Storm clouds were blowing up from the coastal headlands where Brian Boru drove the Danes into the sea.

There are men who direct parking — (for tips) — and mine hurried over to get me into the traffic.

"Easy forward," he said, "and a full lock to the right. Ah, thanks to you, sir. And God bless."

We turned where Charles Stewart Parnell stands in stone. His freedom speech engraved, one arm outflung. ("Pointing the way to Mooney's pub," the Dubliners say.)

☆ ☆ ☆

Irish history is on the tip of every tongue. If you ask a direction, you get the road pointed out and everything that happened on it.

"And after the battle, Brian Boru was giving thanks in his tent and two retreating Danes came by and slew him."

Most of the tales are of blood and slaughter. Ireland's history has been a grim affair of battles and famine.

☆ ☆ ☆

"You could write the history of Ireland till the ink ran dry and half of it yet to be told," said the man in the pub.

"For it was all invasions and fire, sword and free rope, and the Irish in the thick of it.

"The Danes and Norwegians. The Norman French who came from England with Strongbow. Bloody Cromwell and his murdering troopers, throwing holy men into the fire.

"The English and the Black and Tans. Ireland's seen them all."

☆ ☆ ☆

"I met with Napper Tandy,
"And he took me by the hand,
"Saying, 'How is poor old Ireland,
'And what way does she stand?'
"She's the most distressful country
"That ever yet was seen,
"They are hanging men and women
"For the wearing of the green."

☆ ☆ ☆

There were more than eight million people in Ireland when the great Potato Famine came in 1840.

The bar man drew a glass of dark, foam-topped Guinness. It's a silky drink on a rainy day.

"The poor folk took to the roads," he said. "And they say many the poor woman you'd see dead in the ditch, the green juice of grass she'd eaten dripping from her mouth, and the babe still live at her breast."

The starving people fled the country; the population today is less than three million.

☆ ☆ ☆

Ireland's biggest export is her people," they say. But things have turned. The population stabilized last year — Cork City actually gained.

The free port at Shannon built great factory shells. They invited foreign manufacturers to open factories. Tax concessions and easy loans.

To hold her writers and musicians, actors and artists, Ireland will not tax money made in the arts.

This year they've begun the rent-a-cottage project for tourists. Irish thatched cottages — (with modern interiors)—rent for $75 a week summer, $40 in the winter.

It will bring an infusion of people—what Ireland needs most.

"And new hope and spirit," said Brendan O'Regan of the tourist board. "For the villages in the west have been going down and nothing to replace those gone."

☆ ☆ ☆

Said the man in the pub: "Now if it's history you're writing about, you've come to the right place indeed. The Irish began it by inventing whiskey — uisquebaugh, the water of life.

"And look what's happened to the world since."

Here's Lowdown On Racing's Key Figures--Jockeys

(Fourth of a Series)

The jockey always holds fascination for the racing fan. These small, but mighty, athletes are key figures in a race.

Weighing anywhere from as little as 95 pounds up to 118 pounds (although there are no minimum or maximum requirements), the jockey must control a 1,000-pound animal during the course of a race.

It is much more difficult to do that than it appears from the stands. The thoroughbred is a strong, well-conditioned animal that must be controlled, guided and encouraged throughout the race. Jockeys have exceptionally strong arms, almost as important a requirement as light weight.

In an earlier part of the series, the types of races lead weights are added. If weights assigned to horses. If the jockey, plus his equipment, does not add that much weight, special lead wights are added. If Jockey B weighs in at 110 pounds and the horse is assigned to carry 115, then five pounds of weights are placed in special equipment (called a "lead pad") to bring the weights up to the requirements.

The only way for an owner or trainer to reduce the weight assigned his horse for a race is to hire an apprentice jockey for the ride. Usually, the track has races where the more experienced rider qualifies for allowances in weight carried by the horse. An apprentice jockey receives a 10-pound advantage until he wins his fifth race, and seven pounds until he has ridden an additional 30 winners. If he rides 35 winners within a year after his fifth win, he is allowed five pounds the rest of that year.

Much interest has recently been placed on women jockeys. The Fairgrounds in Lincoln had lady jockets years ago — in the early World War II days. A war-time shortage of available male riders gave the gals their chance.

Jockeys are paid a set fee for each mount they have. Most jockeys hire an agent to book them. The agents work with owners and trainers to acquire mounts for the jockey they represent. They are usually paid 10% of a jockey's earnings for this representation.

Fairgrounds jockeys are paid a set fee — a minimum of $18.00 — for each race. Additionally, if the horse finishes in the money, they receive more. Here is the scale for Lincoln.

| Purse | Win | Place | Show | Loser |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1,200-1,300 | 42.00 | 27.00 | 23.00 | 18.00 |
| 1,400-1,500 | 44.00 | 29.00 | 24.00 | 19.00 |
| 1,600-1,700 | 47.00 | 32.00 | 25.00 | 20.00 |
| 1,800-1,900 | 50.00 | 35.00 | 27.00 | 22.00 |
| 2,000 & up | 50.00 | 40.00 | 30.00 | 25.00 |

That means the more times a jockey propells his mount into money, the more he makes. On a good day, a jockey at the Fairgrounds could earn $300 to $600. Nationally, there probably are more $100,000 a year jockeys than there are $100,000 a year athletes in all other sports combined.

There still exists, unfortunately, a belief among some, that jockeys team up to determine the results of a race. Such collusion is improbable since the jockey would be suspended—not only at the track where such an event might take place, but nationally. That eliminates his earning ability as a rider.

Also, to know these mighty little men is to know that they are just as competitive as any other athlete — or more so.

You will notice that an ambulance is on duty at all times at the Fairgrounds during the running of a race. The vehicle trails the actual race, never far from the scene in case there is a spill.

Tracks take every precaution to prevent falls caused by a rough running surface. The Fairgrounds has spent more than $200,000 in the past four years improving total facilities involved in the race plant.

One thing's for sure — the jockey never complains about the lack of thrills connected with his job.

TOMORROW: Terms used in racing and a look at the horse and riding equipment.

Bellevue Rips Gerry's, 8-3, Ties For 1st

Bellevue climbed into a tie for first place with Gerry's Sports Shop in the Eastern Division of the Cornhusker Legion League on an 8-3 victory over the Lincoln team at Sherman Field Wednesday night.

Held to only one hit for the first four innings by Gerry's Jay Weyers, Bellevue broke loose for three runs and three hits in the fifth, then added two runs on three hits in the sixth to knock Weyers out of the box.

Dave Carlson got two hits, including a triple, and Mike Shea two safeties, including a double, for Gerry's against Fred Clark, who went all the way for the winners.

Gerry's put together three hits, two walks and an error in the seventh to score two runs but left the bases loaded for three of the 12 men it stranded the entire game.

Both Bellevue and Gerry's now stand 5-2 in loop play.

In a midget opener, Havelock scored seven runs in the last inning, the sixth, to edge C.W.A., 9-8. Both John Bills and Jim Biggs went 3-for-4 for the winners.

Atlanta Topples Cincy; Yankees Drop Orioles

. . . PHILS WIN 9TH STRAIGHT

By Associated Press

How can you fail to score a run on a hit with the bases loaded?

Just ask the Cincinnati Reds, who failed to do it in losing to the Atlanta Braves 9-4 Wednesday.

This is how it happened. In the third inning, the Reds filled the bases with one out. Tommy Helms drove a sinking liner to right.

However, none of the runners moved. They were under the impression that Hank Aaron had made a shoestring catch. The umpire ruled he had trapped it.

Aaron threw to second base, forcing Pat Corrales, who had been on first. Lee May, who had been on second, was tagged out between second and third for a double play, ending the inning before Tony Perez could score from third.

On top of everyything, Helm lost credit for the hit since he failed to advance a runner.

The Braves broke a 2-2 tie in the second with three runs on a wild pitch, three hit batsmen and a two-run double by Orlando Cepeda. Altogether, Cincinnati pitchers hit a total of five Atlanta batters, setting a modern National League record for one game.

The three hit batsmen in one inning equaled the major league mark.

The Reds third-inning oddity overshadowed the second straight victory of the New York Yankees over the Baltimore Orioles. This time the score was 3-2, with Mel Stottlemyre surviving a ninth inning Oriole threat for his 11th victory.

Horace Clarke led the Yankee attack with three hits, including an RBI triple.

In night games, Detroit blanked Boston, 7-0, Kansas City nipped California, 1-0, Washington stopped Cleveland, 5-1, Chicago hit Montreal, 4-2, and Philadelphia won its ninth straight game, topping Pittsburgh, 14-4.

San Franciso was at San Diego and Houston at Los Angeles in late games on the West Coast.

IRS Multiplies Allen's Woes

Philadelphia (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service claims Richie Allen, controversial first baseman for the Philadelphia Phillies, owes $8,641 on part of the $70,000 bonus he got for signing in 1960.

It was the second disclosure in two days for tax problems for Allen.

On Tuesday the IRS filed a tax lien for $2,165.44 it claims he ownes on his 1966 income.

Allen, who is paid an estimated $80,000 a year by the Phillies, has been suspended by the team since June 24 for missing a double header in New York.

Harvard '8' Wins Test In Regatta

Henley-On-Thames, England (AP) — Although members of the crew still were suffering from a virus, Harvard's undefeated lightweights beat the strong Scottish Argonauts Boat Club in the first round of the Thames Challenge Cup in the Henley Royal Regatta Wednesday.

Stroke by Dave Harman of Newport, R.I., pulled Harvard into the lead after a quarter-mile and then the Crimson won by three-quarters of a length in seven minutes for the mile, 550-yard course on the Thames. All races are over the same distance.

"It was a hard race," said Harvard coach Stephen Gladstone. "All of the crew felt a little rough this morning because of the bug. But the race did them good. We will get better."

Harvard was joined in the second round by the strong lightweights of Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and Pennsylvania's idle, unbeaten freshman heavyweights.

MIT, beaten only by Harvard this year, upset the highly-rated University College of Dubin eight by 1½ lengths in 7:12.

Penn's frosh drew a bye in the Thames Cup, which rates second to the premier Grand Challenge Cup for eight-oared crews. The freshmen will meet England's Thames Rowing Club in the second round Thursday. Harvard will row Norske Studenters of Norway and MIT will oppose Canada's Argonaut Rowing Club.

The Grand Challenge Cup competition opens Thursday with Pennsylvania's crack varsity heavyweights one of the top favorites.

The big American contingent had six other winners and four losers in the opening heats. Three of the winners and two of the losers were in the diamond sculls.

Bill Maher and Bob Arlett of Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club and Bill Tytus of Seattle won in the sculls while Dave Robinson of Philadelphia's Fairmont Rowing Association and Jim Dietz of the New York A.C. lost. Dietz' defeat was caused by broken rigging.

Other winners included the Trinity College eight from Hartford, Conn., in the Ladies Plate and Choate School and Tabor Academy in the Princess Elizabeth Challenge Cup for school-boy eights.

Another New England crew, St. Mark's School, bowed by two lengths to England's Pangbourne College in the Princess Elizabeth Challenge Cup.

Switzerland's Urs Bitterli and Urs Fankhauser defeated the Trinity College twosome of Charles Hubbell and Dan Drury by more than four lengths in the Silver Goblet for pairs.

Kelly Named

Pittsburgh (AP) — Leonard "Red" Kelly, former head coach of the Los Angeles Kings, was named head coach of the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League Wednesday.

Kelly succeeds Red Sullivan, who was let go March 31 when the Penguins finished out of the NHL playoffs for the second straight year.

Royals' Zachary, Flags Go Together

. . . OMAHA RIGHTHANDER LOOKING TO DUPLICATE 1964-65 PENNANT CAMPAIGNS

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Omaha — Starting pitcher Chris Zachary of the Omaha Royals could find his way around pretty well in tall buildings.

"I've been up and down like an elevator," the 25-year-old righthander recalled of his six-year career with the Houston Astros prior to joining the Kansas City organization this season.

This year also could be the third time that Zachary has been a mainstay for a pennant winner in the high minors. He paced the 1964 Texas League champion San Antonio Bullets with a 16-6 record, then followed with the best season of his life in 1965, hurling the Oklahoma City 89ers to the Pacific Coast League flag at the same AAA level he's in now.

At Oklahoma City, Zachary was 17-8 with 175 strikeouts, still the club record there, and added a playoff victory. He had a seven-game winning streak that year in mid-season.

This summer, Zachary has a 6-5 record for Omaha, which is now five games ahead of the field in the American Association race. His 13 starts and 75 innings pitched, as well as his victory total, are all second-best on the club behind Paul Splittorff's 7-3 record, 94 innings and 14 starts. Splittorff has hurled six complete games and Zachary five.

"The whole key to it is just playing on a club that scores a lot of runs for you," Zachary says of his career. "This ball club reminds me a lot of that Oklahoma City team. They both had good personnel, pitching and defense, although there was maybe a little more power at Oklahoma City."

He signed with Houston as a pitcher, although he also played the outfield in high school at Knoxville, Tenn., and was used as a pinch hitter on several occasions at Oklahoma City.

Zachary spent all of his first season in pro baseball, 1963, and parts of 1964, 1966 and 1967 with Houston, going back down to the minors each time and using up all his four options. He had a combined 6-14 record in the big leagues.

A sidelight to his first season was that Houston general manager Paul Richards imposed a 100-pitch limitation per game so as not to strain the then 19-year-old hurler's arm. "One time I had a shutout going in the seventh against the Mets when they lifted me," he recalls philosophically.

In the season opener for Oklahoma City a year ago, Zachary was hit on the hand by a line drive. "It damaged some nerves and I didn't have any circulation and pitched just 15 innings all year. I took some treatment at the end of the summer that helped, then had a good season of winter ball and Kansas City bought me."

This season, Zachary says, "I've started good but have been off and on. I'm hoping to be more consistent. I've had two shutouts, opening day against Oklahoma City, then my best game, a 1-0, 10-inning game against Iowa, when I gave up five hits.

"I've always had good breaking stuff, a good curve and slider. I used to throw harder than I do now but I have better control, which has helped me to be a better pitcher.

One thing it didn't take him long to notice in the Association was that "all six parks are definitely hitters' parks. You can look at the team batting averages and earned-run averages (his is 3.74) to tell that. In the old Coast League, some of the parks were pitchers' parks. I just wish there were some bigger parks in this league."

With all his options used up by Houston, Zachary would have to stay if Kansas City ever called him up. "I'm 25 now," he says, "so I oughta be ready before long. A lot of pitchers don't really jell until they're about this age. This could be my third championship minor league club and I just hope I get to be with a winner in the big leagues."

The most outstanding achievement by Omaha this year is going through the first 75 games without being shut out. Only seven times have the Royals, hitting a composite .293, been held to just one run. Only the 1932 Yankees ever made it through a major league season without being blanked . . .

Slugger Dave Nicholson, sidelined since mid-May with a hernia operation, will rejoin the Royals for a road trip starting Friday . . .

Steve Jones' eight-hit 4-2 victory over Denver Tuesday night gives the Royals a 11-2 edge over the Bears in the season series. Otherwise, Omaha's 13-5 against Oklahoma City, 8-4 against Indianapolis, 9-9 against Tulsa and 6-8 against Iowa, with two of the losses in extra innings and four others by one run. Omaha's 25-15 at home, 21-13 on the road. The Royals have won 15, lost four and tied three season series.

Omaha is leading the league in attendance with 77,203 fans in 40 home games, an average of 1,930.

Parker's Nifty Batting Brings Dodgers Back

Los Angeles (AP) — Even manager Walter Alston finds himself a little surprised to see his Los Angeles Dodgers in first place this opening week of July.

"I kind of go from day to day and let the results fall where they have to," the veteran skipper answered Wednesday when asked if he envisioned a top spot when the Dodgers assembled last spring.

"To be honest," he added, "I didn't think we'd be in first place, no."

Through July 1, the club which finished eighth in 1967 and seventh a year ago stood at 45-29 leading the National Baseball League's Western Division. Three of the starting pitchers have won 10 or more games.

Alston can't put his finger on any one thing bringing winning results, explaining, "We have a little better hitting, pitching, defense, the whole works."

Ask Dodger players what they think brought about the change, and just about everyone will include the hitting of first baseman Wes Parker.

A year ago, the smooth fielder was hitting just .247. Over the same span this season, he's at .295 with nine homers and 36 runs-batted-in.

"We've talked about the kids and how much they've helped and about getting Maury Wills and Manny Mota," said Alston, "yet all the time I've said that Parker has, day in and day out, done a great job. He's a better hitter than at anytime in his life."

Veteran catcher Tom Haller, who came to the Dodgers a year ago in a trade from San Francisco and promptly led the club in batting, thiks "spirit hits the nail on the head."

He also sees a pitching staff that's strong enough "not to let us go into any great tail spin."

Haller explained, "We started with the attitude that 'they don't expect too much from us so we'll show 'em we're better than they expect us to be.' "

Don Sutton posts an 11-6 pitching record, with Bill Singer and southpaw Claude Osteen each 10-6. Veteran Don Drysdale, on the disabled list much of the early season, has returned to action.

With the reclaiming of shortstop Wills, young Sizemore moved to second base and Jim Lefebvre to third. Andy Kosko, the winter acquisition from the Yankees, has provided power with 14 home runs and 48 RBI.

The 20-year-old Russell, who can play any outfield position, already has appeared in 54 games.

Mota has hit nearly .400 since being traded from Montreal, while over the full season, Haller bats .283

King, Jones Advance To Wimbledon Finals

Wimbledon, England (AP) — California's Billie Jean King, aiming for a record-tying fourth straight Wimbledon crown, and England's Ann Haydon Jones, upset conqueror of Margaret Smith Court, will battle Friday for tennis' most prestigious championship.

The two touring professionals advanced to the final Wednesday with strikingly contrasting victories.

Mrs. King, a bouncy, 25-year-old from Long Beach, crushed nervous Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, 6-1, 6-0, in the first semifinal that required just 30 minutes.

Rosie, a 20-year-old pro who tours with Mrs. King, won only 13 points in the lopsided match that brought only the barest ripple of applause from the 15,000 fans packed around the center court.

BILLIE JEAN KING

The spectators, however, rocked the staid old tennis center with applause as Mrs. Jones, a 30-year-old blonde, rallied to upset Mrs. Court, 26, the top-seeded player from Australia, 10-12, 6-3, 6-2, in a two-hour classic.

The men's semifinals will be played Thursday with Arthur Ashe, the No. 1 American from Richmond, Va., trying to hold the fort against three Australian pros.

Ashe will meet Rod Laver, the defending champion and top seed. Tony Roche, beaten in the final by Laver last year, will take on John Newcombe, the champion in 1967 when Wimbledon still was an all-amateur tournament.

The men's final will be played Saturday, with Laver favored to make it two straight and four in all. He also won in 1961 and 1962 as an amateur.

Mrs. King, an erratic player most of the year, hopes to emulate California's Helen Wills Moody, who won at Wimbledon four straight times from 1937 through 1940.

Royals Sweep Denver Twinbill

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha Royals wielded heavy bats Wednesday night to sweep an American Association baseball double-header from Denver, 8-1 and 9-2.

George Spriggs and Bo Osborne lashed homers in the first inning of the nightcap. Spriggs' blast came after Paul Schaal had doubled with one out.

Those were all the runs Chris Zachary needed as he went the distance, yielding only seven hits.

In the first game, first baseman Joe Keough knocked in five of the Royals' eight runs with a single and homer.

Mrs. Court Bows Out Of Tennis

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia bowed out of Wimbledon singles play for good Monday and said she might not even go on to the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills.

In a superb semifinal on Wimbledon's center court, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain defeated the 26-year-old Aussie, 10-12, 6-3, 6-2, and ended Mrs. Court's dream of emulating the 1953 achievement of the late Maureen "Little Mo" Connolly by completing the grand slam. She had won the Australian and French titles and hoped to add Wimbledon and Forest Hills to her bag. . .

"I had already decided this would be my last year," Mrs. Court said. "It would have been nice to go out with the big four. Now that I've lost today I'm not sure that I want to go to Forest Hills. I will decide in the next week or two."

Mrs. Court, winner of Wimbledon in 1963 and 1965, made her exit with the praises ringing in her ears.

Ann Jones said: "In terms of tennis, Margaret is the greatest player I have competed against in these last eight or nine years as a tournament competitor.

Pip Jones, Ann's husband who never misses her matches anywhere in the world, said: "I was proud of Ann today. But with all respect to her, I think Margaret is the world's best woman player.

With two gone in the bottom of the ninth and KOLN trailing by a run, Alex Ellison blasted a triple to knock in the tying tally before Dworak, who had come on in relief in the top of the ninth, singled to right-center to plate the decisive run.

10,000 Doctors Face Audit

Washington (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday it will make a special audit of the income tax returns of an estimated 10,000 doctors who received more than $25,000 a year in medicare and medicaid payments from the government.

IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower told the Senate Finance Committee he did not want to "make judgments as to whether there is widespread cheating" in doctors' tax returns. But he said the IRS had lacked precise enough information to trace their incomes.

There will be an initial examination of the 1967 tax returns of doctors, dentists and other medical practitioners who received more than $50,000 a year in payments from the two programs. The audit will be broadened in subsequent years to include those who received $25,000 or more.

Stock Market Extends Rally

New York (AP) — "There's a few smiles around Wall Street for a change," an analyst said Wednesday as the stock market's rally steamed ahead to give it its third straight winning session.

"The action this week has been better than a lot of people expected," he added, "and we may have a good summer rally building up here."

The advance got under way Monday, after weeks of decline, and in its first two sessions this week the Dow Jones industrial average, which had been falling steadily since reaching its 1969 high of 968.85 May 14, gained a total of 6.14. It picked up 4.79 more in Wednesday's session to close at 880.69.

Gains jumped into a strong early lead over losses and expanded their advantage as trading progressed. Of 1,562 issues traded, 907 advanced and 422 declined. There were 16 new highs for the year and 95 new lows.

The trading pace on the New York Stock Exchange was the best of the week as 11.35 million shares changed hands, compared with 9.90 million Tuesday and 8.64 million Monday.

There were 56 blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the New York Stock Exchange, compared with 49 Tuesday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average gained 1.1 to 313.2, with industrials up 1.9, rails up .3, and utilities up .7.

The market's advance has been regarded as mostly technical in nature, resulting from its recent steep decline.

Steels were mixed. Autos had a higher tone, with American Motors, in which two blocks totaling 132,900 shares were traded, up ½ to 9⅜.

Conglomerates had a higher tone. AMK Corp. gained 1¼. However, Gulf & Western Industries, in which a 159,600-share block was traded, was off ⅝ at 25¼. G&W was third most active.

Aircrafts were lower. Utilities generally were higher.

American Cyanamid, most-active on the Big Board largely on a block of 379,300 shares, slipped ¼ to 29⅛. Twelve of the 20 most-active issues were higher, 7 were lower, and 1 was unchanged.

Prices generally were higher on the American Stock Exchange, with the Amex index gaining 25 cents to $28.35.

Volume was 4.79 million shares, compared with 4.32 million Tuesday.

Cattle Steady To Firm

Omaha (AP) — The slaughter cattle market showed little in the way of Fourth of July pyrotechnics at Omaha Wednesday. It was a deliberate, steady to firm trade, consolidating gains scored earlier this week.

Fed steers, meeting some good action, shaped up firm to 25 cents higher, advances mainly on top-choice and better quality. Heifers traded on a fully steady basis.

Waterfills continued liberal, favoring the selling side at the scales. But most buying outlets operated rather cautiously and proved somewhat number conscious due to the approaching non-slaughter holiday Friday.

However, light pre-holiday marketings kept the trade firmly in the hands of sellers.

Cow prices firmed a bit at the lower end of the quotation range, overall tone about steady. Bulls traded on a steady basis.

Feeder trade was nominal.

Fat steer top moved up to 34.60 paid for two loads high-choice to prime 1,146 lb. weights. Some three loads comparable quality 1,148-1,225 lbs. 34.40-34.50, with around 16 loads strictly top-choice to end prime 1,005-1,396 lbs. 34.00-34.50, shipment heavier weights at 34.25.

Best heifers here 34.00 for load choice and prime 1,050 lbs. shipment 1,118 lb. mixed yearlings also 34.00.

Practical top beef cows 31.50, smooth offerings to 22.00. Boners 20.25 and down, mixed cutter-utility to 20.75 and occasionally 21.00. Bulls bunched up to 26.50.

Reaction nipped the hog market's advance, sending butchers 25 cents to instances 50 cents lower. Sows sold steady. Most downward pressure was noted on butchers under 240 lbs., due in part to narrow pre-holiday shipping demand.

Bulk 190-240 lb. barrows and gilts 26.25 and under, latter practical market top. Sows grouped at 21.00-23.50.

Fat lambs sold steady to 25 cents lower, best here 30.50. Ewes sold steady.

Late Buying Wave Boosts Wheat Prices

Chicago (AP) — A late wave of buying activity sent wheat futures prices ahead by 1 cent a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday.

The surge of buying in wheat tended to influence buying in the corn pit, where a decline of 1 cent that had held through most of the session then eroded. Other grain futures closed on a mixed tone, along with soybeans.

At the close, wheat was ½ to 1 cent a bushel higher, July 1.26; corn was unchanged to ½ lower, July 1.26⅜; oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, July 61¼; rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, July 1.14; and soybeans were ⅞ lower to ⅜ higher, July 2.56⅜.

CB&Q Ordered To Continue To Run Trains 3, 4

Washington (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Wednesday to continue a passenger train between Chicago and Lincoln, Neb., for four months pending investigation into whether the service should be abandoned.

The Burlington wants to abandon trains No. 3 and 4 between the cities.

The ICC said complaints have been filed protesting the proposal to discontinue the passenger service. Public hearings will be held but no dates were announced.

1969 LHS Grad Gets Scholarship From Oil Firm

David Madison, a 1969 graduate of Lincoln High School, has been awarded a four-year, $2,000 college scholarship by Continental Oil Co.

Madison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Madison, recently of Lincoln, who have moved to Houston.

A member of the honor roll all semesters, Madison was a three-year letterman in swimming and worked on the school paper. He plans pre-medicine studies at Rice University.

IF HE CAN'T ESCAPE IT, NO ONE CAN

Even the mayor's car gets ticketed in Lincoln.

Lincoln Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf said Wednesday he received a ticket last week at Holmes Park.

Mayor Schwartzkopf said a park policeman ticketed his car — which has his name written on it — for parking along a curb marked for no parking.

The mayor said he was at the park to check on the number of golfers who use the "back nine" while the "front nine" is being used for league play.

Earlier this week, City Atty. Norman Krivosha pleaded guilty in court on a charge of speeding and was fined.

Nominating Unit Members Okayed

Lawyer members of judicial nominating commissions in Grand Island and Scottsbluff were certified Wednesday by State Supreme Court Clerk George H. Turner.

Franklin L. Pierce, Howard E. Tracy and Clinton E. Cronin were elected to the Grand Island commission while James R. Hancock, Clark G. Nichols and Donn Raymond were named to the Scottsbluff unit.

Turner said certification followed elections conducted among attorneys.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
